To Remove Gall Bladder

Risk Will Be Low, Physician Says Of Johnson's Surgery

Humphrey Will Make Decisions

Action Left Up To Him While Johnson Undergoes Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is leaving in what he regards as the tried and trusted hands of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey any emergency decisions that might arise during and just after his gall bladder operation Friday.

Few Americans, including the present President, are able to envision any critical action that might have to be taken while Johnson is under anesthesia or otherwise incapacitated by the projected operation.

Johnson himself said: "The doctors expect there will be minimal time during which I will not be conducting business as usual."

But there is always the nuclear weapon to be considered. However remote the possibility of its use, no chief executive can disregard the mandate that presidential action is necessary to flick its firing mechanism.

A 15-minute warning would be the maximum if an enemy set off his missiles at the United States, and Johnson is likely to be under sedation much longer than that.

It was for this reason, if for no other, that the President said that although he did not anticipate the need for any instant presidential decision or action, he had instructed the Cabinet and the White House staff to keep in constant contact with Humphrey.

Including the vice president, Johnson said that the men around him have been "party to and have participated in all major political decisions. They are fully and currently informed."

On his part, Humphrey said the President had discussed the situation fully with him and he and the Cabinet "are clear as to the procedures to be followed during his short absence if the necessity arises."

Humphrey's role already had been set out in an agreement which covered any lasting disability of the President. It was similar in it terms to agreements reached between former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The same phraseology had been agreed to verbally by the late President John F. Kennedy and Johnson. It was renewed between Johnson and Humphrey.

What stands out in the relationship of Johnson and Humphrey, however, is the kind of confidence the head man has in his stand-in. This was less discernible in Eisenhower's relationship with Nixon. And it was absent in Franklin D. Roosevelt's consideration of Harry S. Truman.

Firm Launches Work On East End Blacktop

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry launched work shortly before 10 a. m. today on blacktop resurfacing of Pennsylvania and Harvey Aves. and Elizabeth St. from the state line to State St.

The crews started work at the state line, with a parking ban in effect today from that point to Oakland Ave. The company applied the "tack" coat to the East End stretch Sept. 27, then suspended operations to finish another job.

The work will cost approximately $50,000 under a State Highway Department contract. The city's share is $8,000.

4 Men Listed As Missing

Three American Planes Downed Over North Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Three U.S. Air Force planes were shot down Tuesday over North Viet Nam and the four men aboard are listed as missing, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

He said the downed planes were an F4C Phantom, with a two-man crew, and two F105 Thunderchiefs. Two parachutes were observed from the Phantom but a search produced no trace of the airmen, the spokesman said. One parachute was spotted from the Thunderchiefs. The other Thunderchief was lost from sight, he said but did not elaborate. He described the antiaircraft fire as heavy.

The Phantom was lost on a nine-plane strike on the Lang Hep ammunition depot 40 miles northeast of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Ten other Phantoms scheduled for the same target were diverted to fly rescue cover after the plane went down.

The Thunderchiefs were part of a 20-plane raid on Lang Met bridge, 45 miles northeast of Hanoi. Heavy flak was observed over the area, the spokesman said.

Radio Hanoi claimed Tuesday its gunners had shot down 10 U.S planes.

Hanoi declared last week that U.S. pilots shot down in North Viet Nam would be treated as war criminals and face trials.

In the ground war, a U.S. military spokesman said the Vietnamese army claimed its forces killed 260 Viet Cong this week in major operations in the central highlands and the Meking Delta.

The casualty claims were not confirmed by U.S. body counts.

The Vietnamese claimed 220 guerrillas dead following heavy fighting Monday during a government sweep in the southernmost province of An Xuyen.

They said another 40 Viet Cong were killed and 28 captured in an action in Binh Dinh Province. Light government losses were reported.

The operation in Binh Dinh, 305 miles northeast of Saigon, reopened a portion of strategic Highway No. 1 which the Communists had cut, the spokesman said.

Will Spend 10-14 Days In Hospital

Reduced Schedule Afterward To Be For Several Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is facing surgery Friday for removal of his gall bladder, then 10 to 14 days in the hospital and several weeks more on a reduced schedule.

The President, 57, a rather forlorn looking man seated all alone at the huge, octagonal table in the White House Cabinet Room, announced the forthcoming operation to newsmen Tuesday night at the close of a day of suspense.

The physician who will perform the operation, Dr. George A. Hallenbeck of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., said it will be major surgery but "the risk to a normal person of the President's age is very low indeed."

And the man who handled Johnson's severe heart attack in 1955, Dr. J. Willis Hurst, chairman of the medical department at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., said that: "We do not anticipate difficulty. Obviously we intend to be as careful and cautious as possible."

Hurst said Johnson has had no heart difficulty for 10 years and: "I would place him in a group of risks similar to any other patient who has not had a heart attack."

Johnson will check in at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Suburban Bethesda, Md., Thursday night. A Navy commander for a time in World War II, Johnson was taken to this hospital after his heart attack. And he was there for 3½ days last January with a sore throat and heavy cold.

He reported Tuesday night that "the doctors expect there will be minimal time during which I will not be conducting business as usual."

And he sounded assurances

Impact Of U.S. Visit

Pope's Next Trip May Be To Reds

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The impact of Pope Paul' visit to the United Nations strengthened a growing impression here today that his next foreign trip will take him into the Communist world.

The handshake and animated conversation the pontiff had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at the United Nations has added to this impression.

Poland appeared the Red country most likely to receive the Pope.

When he returned from New York Tuesday, the Pope vowed he would "continue to work as much as possible for world peace."

Observers took this to mean that he would also continue to travel, personally carrying the gospel of peace wherever he felt it would serve mankind.

Many in Vatican circles are convinced that Pope Paul's three flights outside Italy have smoothed the way for a personal peace pilgrimage into a Communist land whose political ideology includes atheism.

The thinking goes like this:

Pope Paul broke the most difficult ground of all in January, 1964 by going to the Holy Land. The trip was fraught with potential danger. He visited Arab Jordan and Jewish Israel in an area tense with animosities and hatreds. He came and went in peace, and it was a triumph for him as a messenger of peace.

Next came India in December 1964. Despite many fears that harm would come to the Pope in that teeming land of non-Christians, that, too, was a triumph.

With his first trip to the New World behind him, where is the Pope to turn in his personal peace program? He has been to the Middle East, to Asia and to the Western Hemisphere.

Phillis Calls Press Parley In Dismissal

Reiterates Plans To Carry Fight To Civil Service Unit

County Home Supt. Russell Phillis, given a notice of discharge by the Columbiana County commissioners, today called a press conference for this afternoon at the home near Lisbon.

The superintendent said he has received by registered mail the letter relieving him of his duties, effective Friday.

Phillis again declared he will fight the discharge through the Civil Service Commission.

The letter advising him of his discharge was sent by Commissioners Frank Wilson and Max Gard, who listed various alleged violations of executive conduct, including abuse of residents of the home, drunkenness and improper use of home products.

Commissioner James Boyd, the lone Republican on the board, criticized the discharge action, claiming it is "politically - motivated."

Boyd said the studies by Freeman Strabley, hired earlier this year as an efficiency expert, have been concentrated at the County Home only as an effort to oust Phillis.

Boyd declared if it is proven the superintendent was actually involved in mistreatment of residents of the home," I could not defend him any more than I can approve of the other two

Experts Called To Rescue

Ohio Youth Still Trapped In Cave

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year-old boy was stuck headfirst in a cave today, hungry and cold, but reported still in good condition nearly 24 hours after he was trapped.

Rescuers called in cave experts to try to figure out how to free the youth, Morris Baetzold, from the cavern where he was wedged waist tight while on an outing Tuesday. He remained calm during the rescue efforts.

Medina County Sheriff Norman Stuart said a hole would be drilled from the top of the cave to the tunnel where the boy was trapped if other efforts failed. It is about 35 feet down to the tunnel.

The boy is caught in a narrow tunnel of a smalll cavern known as Wildcat Cave near Hinckley, about 12 miles north of here in northeastern Ohio. He had crawled around tunnels leading off the main cave, went around a big slag of rock, then slipped into a V-shaped crevice where he is held fast.

He has not had food since he was trapped before noon Tuesday while on an outing with other youngsters from the Methodist Children's Home in Berea, near Cleveland, where he lives.

Food can't be gotten to him. His head is away from the area which rescuers can reach.

Seven members of the National Speleological Society, cave experts of the national rescue squad, arrived at Cleveland Hopkins Airport early today and were given a police escort to the scene. They had been summoned by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Rescuers could reach and touch the boy but were unable to move him more than a few inches.

He was tilted downward at a 45-degree angle in a crevice only 10 inches wide and three feet high.

The weather outside the cave was near freezing but rescuers said inside it was warmer. Portable heaters were dragged near the boy to help keep him warm. He was wearing a nylon jacket and jeans.

Lester Zimmerman, chief of the Division of Mines for Ohio, said he didn't think drilling through to the boy was feasible because the cave's ceiling was weak.

Morris was back about 60 feet from the entrance to the cave and 35 feet underground. He was not injured and reportedly in no pain. A doctor at the scene said his physical condition was good.

The boy was with 15 companions who wound up at Whipps Ledges because of a flat tire. The group, all from the children's home, were en route to a historical site in New Philadelphia, Ohio, when their bus had a flat on U.S. 21.

New Defiance Hurled At U.S. By Red China

Claims Plane Shot Down Violated Air Space Of Country

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China hurled new defiance at the United States today after claiming to have downed one of four U.S. planes it said violated Chinese air space.

There was no comment on the Chinese claim from U.S. officials in Washington or Saigon.

A spokesman for Peking's Defense Ministry termed the alleged aerial intrusion "a planned and premeditated action, part of the U.S. imperialists' efforts to expand their war aggression in Asia."

"If the U.S. imperialists insist on imposing war upon the Chinese people and engaging in a trial of military strength, we say to them, you are welcome," he continued.

"If you dare to come, we will dare to hit back. We will fight whenever you come, and wherever you appear. We will wipe you out whether you come singly or in pairs."

"If the U.S. imperialists insist on imposing war upon the Chinese people and engaging in a trial of military strength, we say to them you are welcome," he continued.

"If you dare to come, we will dare to hit back. We will fight whenever you come, and wherever you appear. We will wipe you out whether you come singly or in pairs."

Radio Peking reported that Chinese fliers downed an American fighter Tuesday over Kwangsi, a mainland province adjoining Communist North Viet Nam. The broadcast said the three other American planes "fled in dismay when they found the situation unfavorable."

No further details were given and the fate of the pilot was not disclosed.

Barge Sinks As Towboats Crash In Fog

A barge carrying 1,200 tons of coal was located on the bed of the Ohio River off Smiths Ferry about 11 a. m. today, where it sank nine hours earlier in a collision between two towboats groping their way through heavy fog. No one was injured.

The collision involved the LaBelle, owned by the Wheeling Steel Corp. and downbound with 10 coal-laden barges, and the Franklin Pierce, operated by the Thomas Petroleum Co. of Butler, Pa., and upbound with four barges carrying a total of 8,000 tons of petroleum.

Attendants at the Montgomery Island Dam at Ohio View said a heavy fog obscured the river when the two boats collided about 2 a. m.

The LaBelle's crew located the sunken barge near the Smiths Ferry side and placed a buoy on it to warn away other craft

County Gets $62,880 For Sewer Plans

LISBON — A $62,800 advance for planning for a Columbiana County sewer and water system project from the U.S. Housing and Home Finance Agency was announced today by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congressman.

Hays, attending a NATO conference at New York, advised the county commissioners of the advance from the Community Facilities Administration of the federal agency.

The money is to cover planning for the seven - district system recently created by the county officials to provide water and sewer systems for suburban areas in a project which is estimated to cost $6.2 million.

The project does not include the St. Clair Township water and sewer project, now in the county system, which is about to get under way, its plans having been completed earlier.

The commissioners have retained William McKenna of Quicksall Associates to aid in the planning.

Hays told the commissioners the project is "one of the biggest forward steps taken by the county in many years," adding he will cooperate in the project and in other efforts to help develop the system.

Council Sets Another Meeting

Pay Increase Discussion To Continue At Wellsville

Wellsville Council Tuesday night again discussed granting of wage increases to some city employes, but took no final action.

A caucus session has been set for Thursday at 8 p. m., followed by a special meeting at 10, to further discuss the issue.

Council held an earlier caucus session last week on proposed increases after the request was presented by Mayor William Daugherty.

Councilman Paul Todd, finance chairman, last night said the tentative agreement was to raise salary workers $10 a month and hourly workers 15 cents an hour. Department heads would be given an additional $10 and the driver of the refuse department 20 cents an hour.

Police and firemen were not considered in the discussion. Later, Councilman Walter Henthorne said he felt no action should be taken until all employes could be given an increase. He said firemen and police have more hazardous jobs than the others and deserve more.

Todd said the proposal would cost approximately $5,300 a year. The mayor has pointed out the departments are showing a profit and raises can be granted.

Councilman Aguin Bowlin said he favors wage increases and declared the cost of grave openings at Springhill Cemetery could be raised $5 to take care of the increases in the cemetery department.

The mayor commented that when the police and fire departments were placed on a 40-hour week, with an overtime rate, Council didn't "go down the line" and do the same for all departments.

The water, refuse and sewage disposal employes do not get overtime pay.

In other business, Council adopted legislation providing for the issuance of a $5,000 note in anticipation of the sale of bonds to provide money for the installation of a new roof and other repairs on the city-owned building at 12th St.

The building will be used to house city vehicles and equipment. Rents now paid will be used to retire the bonds.

Legislation also was adopted transferring $2,000 from the general fund to the sewer fund to provide for the cleaning and repairs to the McQueen's Run sewer. Also appropriated was $375 for street maintenance, $225

Turns To State Committee

Weirton Man Files Appeal In Democratic Dismissal

Mustafa Mallas of Weirton has appealed to the West Virginia Democratic Executive Committee against his dismissal from the Hancock County Executive Committee.

He is being represented by Attys. Frank A. Pietranton and Callie Tsapis of Weirton and William Conklin of Chester.

Mallas, who has been with the Dick Wright faction in the intra-party feud with county chairman Edward A. Zagula of Weirton, was ousted from the committee June 15 by a 9-to-6 vote, with four abstentions.

Zagula had charged Mallas "with disavowal of allegiance to the party by failure to support Jack Evans as Clay District commissioner when he was chosen Democratic candidate, by criticizing appointed and and elected party officials and for heading the so-called New Frontier organization beyond the authority of the county committee."

The Mallas petition charges he was refused time to consider the charges at the June 15 meeting and was not given an opportunity to consult with counsel.

The petition claims the trial committee — comprised of Mrs. Olive Pearson, Paul Rex Cowey, Anthony DiBart and Guido

Youth 'Poor' As Auto Flies Through Air

A 19-year-old Salem driver was in "poor" condition today at a Salem hospital after escaping death Tuesday night when his 1965 sports car struck two embankments, plummeted 75 feet through the air, hit a rock, landed in a creek and came to rest on its wheels.

Dennis Zabawa of Salem suffered multiple lacerations of the head, concussion and multiple abrasions and contusions of the thighs — the latter from a seat belt which may have saved his life.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Zabawa was headed north on Route 45 about two miles south of Salem at 7:50 p. m. when his automobile acrobatics began.

Zabawa's car veered off the highway and struck an embankment on the right side. It then bounced into the air for some 75 feet and landed upsidedown on a large rock, flipped over on its wheels and hurtled over a steep embankment, officers said.

The car careened into a creek, spun over again and finally came to rest on its wheels, having traveled some 500 feet from the point of initial impact.

Zabawa was charged with speeding. His car was demolished, the patrol said.

Needed–A County Home Solution

Growing concern throughout Columbiana County about the status of the County Home near Lisbon cannot be expected to be eased by the latest action of the county commissioners in notifying Supt. Russell Phillis of his dismissal.

Regardless of the eventual outcome of the present feuding between the two Democratic commissioners and Mr. Phillis, there will remain apprehension on the part of the public about the efficiency of operation and the treatment of residents of the home.

Of one thing most people are certain — the County Home must not continue to be a political football; and no one can honestly deny that it hasn't taken somewhat of a kicking around.

When elderly men and women are placed in the custody of county authorities, the public which foots the bill has every right to demand that they be given the best care possible. A sincere interest in the elderly has been demonstrated by the majority of county residents through support of the home levy and other projects related to the institution.

When bickering and controversy flare, as it has, the result inevitably means wasted effort, loss of faith on the part of a disgusted citizenry and a generally confused operation.

Who's right and who's wrong in the Phillis case remains for the proper channels to determine.

But regardless of whether Mr. Phillis goes or whether he remains, it's time for the commissioners to take stock of things and place the home on a business - like operation free of political maneuvering.

If the commissioners feel that such a business-like operation can't come to pass under the present setup, they should take steps to see that the program is altered, even if it requires the interjection of a capable, nonpartisan responsible person or persons.

Over the past few years the public and the county officials themselves have become confused, alarmed and uncertain as to whether the home is meeting its responsibilities effectively.

Bringing the Phillis situation to a head should help to clear the air if followed through in a proper manner. The addition of the dismissal to the hodgepodge of claims and counter-claims makes it ever more imperative that the whole mess be straightened out and that the men and women who find it necessary to go to the home receive the best care available from what the public provides.

The Pot Boils

With the Republican state chairman due at Salem Thursday and the newly-appointed postmaster general of the United States scheduled to appear later this month at a Democratic dinner meeting, Columbiana County is not being forgotten in the political scheme of things.

This is well and good. With both parties constantly contesting for important county and municipal offices, we're entitled to the counseling and wisdom of those who operate on the higher political levels.

While their comments are certain to be packaged neatly and carefully under their own party labels, it's always a pleasure to welcome men of the caliber of John S. Andrews and Lawrence F. O'Brien.

Being vitally interested in all worthwhile developments on a local, county, state and national level, we have no desire to be forgotten in the mad scramble that is politics.

The 'Painless Way' To Help

Supporting the various community service agencies of the area has long been a way of life for those who are aware of man's responsibility to fellow man.

The young people, the ailing, the elderly, the needy who benefit from these programs can never express the individual thanks which they feel, but the appreciation is there, just as the generosity which made the help possible.

The United Fund of the area is now in its fourth year of seeking funds to support these agencies which are so vital for our community and for programs to help others across the nation.

The UF has combined most of those drives which were formerly so bothersome to conduct, so expensive in their duplication and so often so miserably unsuccessful.

Success of the United Fund in the last three years has resulted not only from the hard work of the volunteers, but from the simplicity of its program of enabling each of us to help all these agencies with our "fair share."

Because this help is a part of our American way of giving, so is the means of giving—a payroll deduction plan which is effective, convenient and "painless," because such a small amount is donated each pay period.

The question facing the future of the United Fund no longer seems whether its drive will be a success, it is how many more conscientious citizens will recognize this worthwhile means of regularly helping these agencies which are a part of our community, a part of our lives.

Falling Into Place

Councilmanic action that has set the stage for continued expansion of downtown parking facilities represents another important piece in the gigantic jigsaw puzzle of progress so vital to the downtown business district and the community as a whole.

It will take time before all the pieces fall into their proper place. Sensible planning and the ultimate realization of its goals is a demanding, long-range and at times frustrating experience. Bit by bit, however, as the pieces fit together, the over-all picture will become clearer with gratifying results.

The latest expansion of the downtown parking program will play its part.

To See Is To Believe

The impact of Pope Paul's one-day presence in this country could not be overestimated even by the most devout Roman Catholics.

It affected followers of all religions.

It affected millions who profess no religious faith at all.

The impact was secular as well as spiritual. It was a demonstration of one of the great facts of the modern world.

That is the existence of a vast power over the minds and affairs of men in the person of the Pope and in the worldwide institution he heads — the Roman Catholic Church.

Joseph Stalin is said to have asked once when discussing the conflict between Marxism and Catholicism how many military divisions the Pope had at his command.

The Russian egocentrist was incapable of conceiving that a Roman Catholic Pope commands a force infinitely stronger than all the military divisions that have existed since the beginning of time.

It is unlikely that any of the secular strong men alive today can grasp fully the significance of the Vatican's influence when applied to temporal problems.

The influence never has been geared directly to 20th century facilities before.

This is what Pope Paul has chosen to do in his reign.

He has made a momentous resolution to seek peace in the world in person — to make the Papal influence palpable and immediate far beyond Vatican City.

He has traveled to the Holy Land, India and the United States.

He has utilized the jet airplane to make himself a living symbol to millions who otherwise would never have seen him.

He has made pilgrimages to the world of his day, in preference to waiting for the world to make pilgrimages to Rome.

How many military divisions does Pope Paul have?

None. Not one.

But of human beings who find great credibility in his words of good will and who find conviction and courage in his pilgrimage for peace he has whole armies — enough to sober the ambition of all temporal leaders seeking power through violence.

Letter From Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: What have you been doing to justify your existence?

Think twice before answering.

You could incriminate yourself.

Have you helped any old ladies across the street?

Are you making anyone happy?

Have you let any poor sucker out of a cross street or a driveway in heavy traffic?

How long has it been since you gave the price of a saucerful of Irish coffee to a stumblebum?

Are you still turning down all requests for handouts on the coldly logical assumption that people who are down and out cannot be relied on to improve themselves?

When did you pick up your last piece of paper and stuff it in a trash can?

Do you remember what it feels like to tell a woman that she looks extra nice, especially if she isn't on the receiving end of many compliments?

How much time has passed since the last time you picked up a telephone and told someone who wasn't expecting to hear from you that you felt like giving them a ring?

Do you ever take pen in hand to write a note to someone who has had an honor come his way, or who has done something praiseworthy?

When was the last time you rescued a kitten, or made sure a stray dog would have a meal?

Would it put you out to let a public official know you approve of the way he has been handling his job?

Why not find out how good it makes a fellow feel to slow down on a lonesome road and make sure the auto with the two women standing beside it also has a man close by to take care of things?

When was the last time you left the beaten path to take notice of some kid who looks as if he might need a friend?

How long since you tore out a newspaper clipping and sent it to the person it concerned—just to show the recipient you had noticed him?

Has it crossed your mind that saying something nice to the man who runs a nice shop would make him feel good?

Or that complimenting a restaurant proprietor on the food and service would brighten his day?

Or that a postcard to a radio station, a TV network, or the editor of the newspaper might help save a program or feature?

You had better not answer.

You have been too busy.

Usually, people are too busy until they have their first intimation of mortality, then try to make up lost time.

It would be better if we kept up the good work as we went long.

Regards from a pair of old-timers who think you're absolutely wonderful — so kind, so brave, so handsome, so courageous etc. Feel better?

Words To Live–Or Die–By!

Johnson Faces An Acid Test

By Victor Riesel

Is Lyndon Johnson fresh out of rabbits? Is he down to the bottom of the sombrero or can he still pull a hare out of a hat?

That's what they're asking themselves in the highest labor circles when they discuss the repeal of "14-b"—which is most of the time now.

Victor Riesel

The nation's "in" labor leaders, talking among themselves, admit that without one more such rabbit, the masterful political magician will fail — but not for lack of trying.

Few observers are aware that the President not only gave labor his word he'd try to push through repeal, but that he would smash the anti-union shop law in this session.

Such a pledge was made by Mr. Johnson to labor chiefs George Meany, Dave Dubinsky and Jack Potofsky during a confidential White House conversation as long ago as last March 10.

The chief executive asked only that they let him pick the moment for the big push for labor's No. 1 objective. With him timing is everything and makes politics the art of the possible.

That day he said he'd keep Congress in session until New Year's Eve if need be.

THE MOMENT is now, and labor still is counting on the rabbits. Just the other day Meany said: "The filibuster must be broken. We are confident that it will be broken. . . ."

Meany rarely says what he doesn't mean. Especially not in moments as tense as these for labor.

Why all the intensity? The basic story has not really been told. There's more to it than labor's wanting all workers to join a union.

There's the matter of the Democratic-labor-liberal coalition's control of the next Congress.

The President and his labor allies are practical politicians. They know the value of money and manpower in any election — especially when it is strategically spread across scores of thousands of precincts.

This money, this manpower, this political network were indeed valuable during the 1964 presidential campaign despite Mr. Johnson's ability to pile up votes on his own.

LABOR SPENT millions to put across a liberal-labor congressional majority. They hit the streets with thousands of skilled organizers.

They told their people that victory in such a campaign would mean passage of their high priority legislation. And highest on the list, though quietest for months was the repeal of the law which makes it unnecessary in 19 states to join a union to keep a job.

Enough freshmen congressman — including labor leaders themselves—were elected to make this Congress so pro-labor that one high spokesman said recently: "So many of our proposals have been passed, we have no legislative program left."

But now Sen. Dirksen is blocking the top goal. And he is a brilliant parliamentarian. If he beats the Johnson-labor coalition, the Illinois orator will do it with the support of Democratic senators.

Labor's policy makers shudder at the thought. How, they ask, will they be able to go back to their thousands of activisits and convincingly explain what happened. Certainly they'll blame the defeat on the Republicans and Southerners. But they fully expect their people "out there" to say, so what? We were promised!

PRACTICAL POLITICANS know all about the danger of "what-have-you-done-for-me - lately" sentiment.

The sentiment will compound as next year's mid-term congressional election campaigns start. Thousands of the activists will take it easy or sit on their hands and union pocketbooks. This could cost the liberal-labor coalition over 50 seats.

Only once in history has the party in power failed to lose seats. That was during the brutal depression year of 1934. But Franklin D. Roosevelt's block lost 71 seats during the 1938 congressional lection. The Truman administration lost 55 seats in 1950. Similar losses in 1966 would give Mr. Johnson an opposition Congress.

Such a Congress would serve until the 1968 presidential election. To prevent that the President and the labor leaders will keep those lights burning in the White House.

The big hunt for magic rabbits is on!

A Constitutional Revolution Begins

By Raymond Moley

In a legislative body there is always a peril to the rights of individuals and to minorities from an unrestrained majority. And the bigger the majority, the greater the peril.

This observation applies with special emphasis to what has happened in the present session in the House of Representatives elected in the great sweep of 1964.

An illustration of this is what has happened to the rules and procedures in the House. For that body, rather than the Senate, has in past years been the major means of restraint and deliberation.

Everyone remembers the great fight in 1961 over the "packing" or "enlargement" of the Rules Committee. Irritated by the exercise of their powers by Chairman Smith and his majority in the committee, President Kennedy and his liberal friends in the House secured the addition of two liberal Democratic members to the Rules Committee.

THE VOTE on that was narrow, 217 to 212. But the Kennedy program lagged, because in so large a body as the House it was necessary to have a means for reviewing the innumerable bills passed on by the various committees before they were brought to the floor for debate and a vote.

With Mr. Johnson, who possesses much greater influence in Congress than his predecessor, there developed a compulsive drive to pass what was left from the Kennedy years and to add a considerable number of new programs.

And so his friends proposed two changes in the rules of the House which virtually gave Speaker McCormick much of the power formerly exercised by the Rules Committee.

In January these changes in the rules were passed by a vote of 224 to 201. It is very significant that these changes would have been defeated except for the defection of 16 Republican members. That party bolt could not have happened except for three factors — the diminished Republican minority in the House, the fight in the Republican minority over the leadership and the deep fissure in the Republican party over the nation after the convention of July 1964.

AT ANY RATE, that defection by Republicans has permitted a profoundly important change in the balance between the executive and legislative branches of our government.

Under the revised rules, Speaker McCormick has the authority to bring any bill to the floor for debate and a vote which has been adversely reported by the Rules Committee or which the Rules Committee has failed to act upon within 21 days after the bill's referral to the Rules Committee.

In actual practice, during this session the speaker has scheduled bills for floor action so soon after their referral that the Rules Committee has simply not had the time to read or consider them.

The 1961 enlargement of the Rules Committee meant a great increase in the power of the speaker. This new change has given the speaker almost dictatorial power over legislation. And since McCormick is responsive to the President's wishes, the President can get almost anything he wants from the House with little debate or deliberation. The result will be not only an overriding of the constitutional division between the executive and legislative branches of government, but the hasty passage of bills the defects of which time will most certainly reveal.

THE HOUSE of Representatives is a very large and cumbersome body. Even when it had only 142 members, Jefferson wrote in his Manual of Parliamentary Practice in 1801: "It is much more material that there should be a rule to go by than what that rule is: that there may be a uniformity of proceeding in business not subject to the caprice of the speaker or captiousness of the members."

This is a warning that the present Democratic party in the House has ignored in giving the speaker such dictatorial power. And this was the Jefferson who in every convention of that party has been hailed as its founder and guiding spirit.

14th Amendment

By David Lawrence

Ratification Untested In Court

The Supreme Court of the United States, which has just started a new term, has before it a most challenging issue—how to correct a gross injustice, indeed a palpable fraud, and can history committed in July 1868 by Congress in proclaiming the 14th Amendment to the Constitution as valid, even though it was not legally ratified. For nearly 90 years the high court has refused to take a case for adjudication of the question despite efforts which have been repeatedly made to obtain a hearing.

David Lawrence

The issue is not whether the 14th Amendment itself is desirable, for undoubtedly two thirds of Congress and three fourths of the states today would immediately ratify a substitute using the identical language. The real question is whether the crooked method used for "ratification" shall be allowed to stand without court condemnation.

The record in the case is indisputable. Congress ignored the fact that Presidents Lincoln and Johnson had specifically recognized the legal status of members of Congress and the state legislatures. The 13th Amendment, moreover, abolishing slavery, had been ratified in December 1865 by three fourths of the state legislatures, including the Southern states.

TO GET the 14th Amendment "adopted" by Congress, however, Sen. Stockton of New Jersey—who had already been duly seated and held the deciding vote against the amendment—was suddenly deprived of his seat in June 1866 because it was charged that he had been elected by a plurality, not a majority. Yet this was the legal formula for elections in New Jersey and other states as well.

There is no provision in the Constitution which permits Congress to punish its own members for refusing to vote for a constitutional amendment. Nor can states be lawfully coerced by military action into ratifying a constitutional amendment which they have rejected, as happened with the 14th Amendment.

Many people are saying that the Supreme Court has, in effect, sustained the 14th Amendment because it has decided various cases involving interpretation of different phrases of that amendment. The truth is the high court has never accepted jurisdiction in any case involving the validity of the actual process of "ratifying" the 14th Amendment.

FOR MANY YEARS, the court refused to hear all such questions as being "political." Even this barrier was later broken down. Thus, the Supreme Court in 1939 took a case known as Coleman V. Miller and ruled that, although Kansas had 13 years before rejected the child-labor amendment, its later ratification must be permitted to stand.

The Supreme Court also has taken up in various cases other points in which procedure and ratification of constitutional amendments were involved. In 1921, it ruled that Congress had the power to put a time limit on ratification. In another case, decided in 1931, the high court took up the question of whether the 18th Amendment was properly ratified because it was done by state legislatures rather than conventions. The court declared that Article V of the Constitution specifically gave Congress the power to choose whether an amendment should be ratified by state conventions or state legislatures.

The State of Kansas now has brought before the Supreme Court of the United States the question of whether the 14th Amendment was or was not legally ratified, and the attorney general of that state has requested that the high court take jurisdiction.

He has made a lengthy argument contending that the high court in reapportionment cases during the last few years has delved into what it had previously called "political" questions.

IF THE SUPREME COURT avoids the issue of whether the 14th Amendment was legally adopted, it's tantamount to saying that Congress possesses supreme power not only to unseat members at any time in order to get a necessary majority, but also by a simple act of Congress to ignore the action of state legislatures by declaring them out of the Union.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Elkton-Clarkson Rd. was opened to traffic again after a washout, nearly 100 feet deep in one section, was filled.

Repairs were under way at three district dams on the Ohio River — No. 8, near here, No. 11, below Steubenville, and No. 13, near Wheeling.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The district Office of Price Administration announced a drop in the price of sweet potatoes and a rise in the price of apples, causing this comment from local shoppers: "How do you like those tomatoes!"

Telephone service in the East Liverpool district was at a virtual standstill for four hours as operators left their switchboards as part of a nationwide demonstration to authorize the National Federation of Telephone Workers to seek a strike vote.

TEN YEARS AGO — An out-of-town motorist told police she was looking for a highway route marker when she drove through a traffic light stop signal, causing an accident that resulted in damage to two cars here.

It was announced that 11 courses would be offered in the Adult Night School which would be conducted at East Liverpool High School with the approval of the Board of Education. The program was similar to schools being conducted in Midland and Martins Ferry.

Council voted to make 12th St. a one-way street from Main St. to Center St. for a 90-day trial period. This was the recommendation of the street and light committee.

The Ideal Chevrolet Co. of Broadway, owned by Allen Dalrymple, was granted permission to remove broken curbing at the rear of its car lot along Commerce St.

The mayor's report for September showed $338.30 collected in fines and fees.

Charles Coen of 1754 Clark Ave. complained to Council that a recent police appointment had been given to a non-veteran on the Civil Service Commission list of eligibles. Coen said he is on the list and had a score of 115 on a test, compared with an 85 received by the appointee. Coen said civil service law states a veteran is to receive preference in appointments.

Coen said he had tried to talk to Mayor Daugherty about the appointment, but was told to consult the city solicitor.

Henthorne pointed out appointments are made by the administration and not Council. Solicitor William Bush said it was an administrative matter.

Delmar T. O'Hara spoke from the audience, stating he had written a letter to the mayor on behalf of Coen, asking to meet with him. The mayor referred the issue to Bush, O'Hara said.

O'Hara then asked Bush and the mayor if they were willing to talk with Coen. The mayor said it was not a matter for public discussion and Bush told O'Hara that if "you are dealing as his (Coen) counsel, I'll deal with you. You know how to contact me if you want."

During the discussion, Coen said he feels veterans are being discriminated against by the administration. Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare pointed out both he and the mayor were veterans and are not prejudiced in any manner.

This marks the third appeal resulting from the split in the Democratic party ranks which occurred last year when the new committee ousted Dick Wright and elected Zagula.

Wright appealed to the state Supreme Court, but was turned down. Just two months ago, he appealed to the state Democratic Executive Committee and again was spurned.

that should presidential action or decision be needed and he was unable to provide them, standing arrangements are in effect for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to act in his place.

Johnson met with Humphrey and the Cabinet just before he read his announcement to newsmen. He said he had discussed his case also with congressional leaders and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He had gone through a flurry of appointments, with newsmen and photographers called in to observe part of the process. But the White House press corps had had advance indications of something more momentous — something whose nature was a carefully guarded secret to the last moment.

The moment came after the Cabinet had left.

A trace of a smile flitted across Johnson's face when cameramen and newsmen started piling into the Cabinet room. He began reading his statement — rapidly, as if he were anxious to get it over with.

"At the ranch on Sept. 7," he said, "I felt some pains in my stomach which seemed to be the result of something I had eaten."

The White House physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, he said, examined him, suspected gall bladder trouble, and suggested that X-rays be taken after his return to Washington.

There was a series of these that week, and Johnson said Burkley reported they indicated a poorly functioning gall bladder.

The X-ray films were forwarded to the President's family doctor, former Texan James Cain of the Mayo Clinic staff. Cain and Mayo radiologists confirmed Burkley's diagnosis of a misfunctioning gall bladder with stones, Johnson said.

"After further consultation," the President said, "the doctors recommended that the gall bladder be removed. I will, therefore, enter Bethesda Naval Hospital Thursday night for surgery Friday.

"While I do not anticipate the need for presidential decision or actions during the short time that I shall not be available for that purpose, the Cabinet, and particularly the secretary of state and secretary of defense, as well as my White House staff, will always be in contact with the vice president.

"These men have been a party to and participated thoroughly in all major policy decisions. They are fully and currently informed. The public will of course be kept fully and currently advised of my progress."

Johnson arose from the presidential chair, managed a bit of a smile again, and walked rapidly toward the door. He seemed touched by a chorus of "Good luck, Mr. President," from the press corps.

Humphrey told newsmen that Johnson had discussed the situation fully with him and the Cabinet, "and we are clear as to the procedures to be followed during his short absence if necessity arises."

Humphrey added that he would remain in Washington and be available at all times during Johnson's hospitalization.

Not since Eisenhower underwent an ileitis operation in 1956 has a president in office required surgery.

Johnson himself had had a kidney stone removed by surgery back in 1955, before his heart attack. And in 1948 one was eliminated by manipulation.

This was recalled by Dr. Cain after Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, brought in most of the team of doctors handling the Johnson case for a question-and-answer session.

and to serve as a guide when salvage operations begin.

The Franklin Pierce later proceeded upriver. The collision ripped a hole in the forward end of one of its barges, but it was primarily above the water line and was not in any danger of sinking. The Pierce was carrying petroleum products to an oil company's dock near Vanport.

Plans Discussed On Improvement For Tomlinson

N. T. Holbrook, Tomlinson Run State Park supervisor, met with members of the park committee of the Hancock County Planning Commission at the park Tuesday night.

Ray Shaw, committee president, said plans were discussed for future repaving of roads and rejuvenating existing recreational sites, boat docks at the lake and refreshment stands.

Plans also were discussed for better sanitation of toilet facilities.

The allocation of funds for these improvements was not discussed, Shaw said.

"It was more of an organizational meeting to set up definite programs for these improvements," the committee head stated.

Present were Shaw, Thomas Donovan, Michael Sinicropi and Holbrook.

West Virginia's Motorists Assail Center Markings

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia motorists apparently are driving more slowly and enjoying it less.

This seemed to be the case Tuesday when the State Road Commission announced it is receiving irate letters from state drivers who contend new centerline markings on state highways are making it difficult to pass slow-moving vehicles.

The SRC is in the process of making the markings conform with uniform standards prepared by the National Joint Committee on Uniform Traffic Control Devices.

As a result, many state roads now have longer yellow lines which mean no passing.

Road commission officials say there has been little consistency in the markings of passing zones in the past. The markings sometimes were insufficient to prevent unsafe passing even if they were obeyed, the officials said.

The method of marking hasn't changed, however. if there's nothing but a broken white line down the middle of the road, passing is permitted. A solid yellow line on both sides of the center mean no passing from either side.

The only difference in the current program is that the yellow lines are now being painted in conformity with the national standards.

Paintings, Drawings Shown By Hacker As Rotary Meets

Hans Hacker, local artist, discussed his many paintings and drawings of the East Liverpool area during the Rotary luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

He had a few of his more recent paintings on hand, but used the more convenient method of screening color slides for reviewing most of his work.

Many of the paintings were of particular interest, since they served to emphasize the changing nature of the community, several of the old buildings and scenes which Hacker has captured on canvas having since been replaced with modern structures.

Hacker, who described himself as a "realist" basically, offered samples of his collection in several mediums — oils, water colors, pencil drawings and charcoals.

His favorite subjects, he explained, are nature scenes and old buildings.

Visiting Rotarians were Dave Schwebel of Boardman, Jack Pozenel of Lisbon and Dr. Zanvil Sigel of Midland. Francis Lang introduced a guest, Al Fitch, a Salem attorney.

E. R. Chandler, president, announced that a meeting of the board of directors will be held Thursday noon in the dining room at the hotel.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I'm a manager in the furniture department of a large department store, and I tried the homemade polish which I read about in your column, on all of the furniture which I have on display, and was amazed at the reults.

I'm now passing along this recipe to all of my customers who purchase furniture in my department.

Thanks millions for your wonderful hint.

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT MANAGER.

-:-

Folks, we have had so many compliments on this homemade furniture polish that we are going to repeat the recipe for those of you who might have missed it:

USE ONE-THIRD CUP OF EACH:

Boiled linseed oil.

Turpentine.

Vinegar.

Mix together, and shake well before using. Pour on soft cloth to apply, and wipe completely dry with another clean soft cloth afterwards.

Don't try to boil your own linseed oil . it's not the same! Buy it at paint or hardware store.

This is a formula sent in by Antique Dealers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I just took a to-be-discarded woolen dress that zipped down the back (one of the light-weight, but lined ones), cut it off at the waist, removed the zipper, let out the darts, trimmed the waist with some braid . . . and ended up with a nice, warm bed jacket.

BETTE KING.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: My friend, Jean, called to say she would be at my house in 10 minutes. I straightened and dusted the living room, and made a fresh pot of coffee.

The doorbell rang, and as I hastened through the living room to answer it, I noticed I had failed to dust the long cocktail table. I bent over and wrote, "Welcome, Jean" in the dust, and then admitted my friend!

Her comment, "Oh, I feel so at home" (with the dust) made me feel good, and we started our visit with a good laugh.

LILLIAN CLARK.

DEAR HELOISE: When making candy which refuses to harden, save it for an ice cream topping, or pour it over angel food cake.

Marshmallow fudge is especially good for such toppings.

PAT WARD.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who still like to use a regular pen but are often annoyed by ink stains on the fingers, I suggest that they wet the tip of the head of a match, and apply it to the stain.

The stain will disappear like magic.

BOB DIEDRICH.

-:-

I thought you must be joshing, but, by golly, it works!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I made an insulated blanket by sewing a piece of thin plastic between two sheet blankets.

I sewed around the edges and across several times to hold all three together firmly.

Makes the best insulated blanket you can find anywhere!

EVA D.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: I have a 5-month-old son, and I was busy this morning and could not entertain him. So I put him in his crib and turned on a small transistor radio nearby. I tuned in to soft music and poetry. (If you search the dial, you can find nice music!)

He was absolutely enchanted, and kept "talking" to the radio. And, mother could get on with her work!

MRS. EITA LEE.

Two Counties To Cooperate During Extension Changes

LISBON — Recent personnel changes in the Columbiana-Mahoning County Cooperative Extension Service have brought about some temporary changes in the two county extension program.

Donald Myers, agricultural agent in Columbiana County, recently began a six - month study to complete his Master's Degree in Crop Science at Michigan State University. He will return to Ohio in April to head a 13 - county area agronomy improvement program in southeastern Ohio.

Meanwhile, Robert Groves, 4-H agent in Mahoning County, also will be on leave for two quarters of graduate study at Ohio State University. He will return to Canfield in April.

Until Myers' replacement is named and Groves returns, the two county agricultural program responsibilities will be somewhat altered, but continued, with William Phillips, county agricultural agent, and Robert Lewis, Columbiana County 4-H agent, assisting with the various programs.

Phillips will work with the areas of agronomy, dairy, greenhouse florist, poultry and tree fruits and Lewis with the areas of swine, sheep, beef, potatoes, bees, Christmas trees and berries.

Both men will continue with the 4-H program in each county, assisted by Beulah Converse and Ann Overturf, Home Economics agents.

For several years the counties have worked closely together, primarily in the agricultural areas. The two agricultural agents in both counties have divided the various agricultural areas of production and crossed county lines to offer a more specialized educational service to the county's agricultural producers.

Recently this program has been carried out to some extent in both Home Economics and 4-H work.

The replacement of the agricultural agent in Columbiana County will be determined in Columbus by the Ohio State University College of Agricultural Extension Administration.

The County Extension Advisory Committee must give final approval of the agent upon recommendation by the administration.

West Beaver Group Will Hold Bake Sale

A bake sale will be sponsored by the Western Beaver Post-Prom Committee Saturday at the Beaver Super Market in Beaver.

Mrs. George A. Brown, ways and means chairman, will be in charge of arrangements.

The unit will meet Oct. 25 in the high school building at Industry.

The world's leading wine producers are France, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

Will Take Part In 4-State Meeting

LISBON — Four Columbiana County youths will be attending a four-state conference at Jackson Mills, W. Va., Friday through Sunday.

They are Nancy Lowmiller, Minerva R. D. 2; Gloria Baker, Lisbon R. D. 5; Don Frischkorn, Wellsville R. D. 1 and Brenda Wilhelm, Salem R. D. 3. Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H, will accompany the group.

The theme of the conference is "Values in Focus," with discussion groups on leadership, values, companionship and citizenship.

The four-state event is being sponsored by the cooperative extension services of the states of Delaware, Maryland, Ohio and West Virginia.

Mahoning Board Ordered To Put Cline On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Mahoning County Board of Elections was ordered by the Ohio Supreme Court Tuesday to place the name of Paul Cline on the Nov. 2 ballot as candidate for the Austintown Township Board of Trustees.

Cline's petitions were rejected by the board last July because three of his six papers were notarized on separate dates in July instead of June 16, when the others were presented to the notary.

The Supreme Court noted that the variance in date was a deviation from statutory requirements, but said "to disqualify a candidate from seeking public office on such a minor technicality would serve no public purposes."

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) The makings of a mild rhubarb seemed to be fomenting today as right-handers Jim (Mudcat) Grant of the Minnesota Twins and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers clashed in the opening game of the 1965 World Series.

The weather prediction was for mild, cool temperature but the air in the vicinity of the batting cage during the Twins workout Tuesday was a little warm, especially around Manager Sam Mele.

Usually a mild-mannered gent, Mele took off on the Dodgers because of a prediction by Los Angeles General Manager Buzzie Bavasi that his team would sweep the Twins in four straight.

"The Dodgers are in for a surprise," Sam retorted hotly. "They've got my guys a little disturbed by their comments. And I don't mind saying I'm not happy about what they said, either.

"Cracks like that have a habit of coming back to haunt a guy. I think all they did was fire up the guys a little more."

Bavasi had been quoted as saying:

"I think three or four clubs in our league would have won the pennant over there. I don't think the competition from the Twins will be any tougher than the Yankees when we beat them four straight in 1963."

Easy going Walt Alston was not very happy over Bavasi's remarks, either. The diplomatic manager of the Dodgers attempted to ease the situation.

"Don't pay any attention to what Bavasi says," Alston soothed. "Our guys know it won't be easy.

"I hope we can win it — whether it's four or seven. I'll be happy to take it in any number of games."

Both Drysdale and Grant declared themselves fit and ready. Don went into the game with a six-day rest, the longest he's had all year. Mudcat, a Floridian who got his nickname because he was mistaken for a Mississippian, hurled two tune-up innings last Saturday.

Neither Drysdale nor Grant have pitched against the other club although the Dodgers' 6-foot-6 Drysdale said he faced a number of Twins in All-Star competition.

"The only Dodgers I have ever pitched against," said Grant, "are Lou Johnson, when he was with the Cubs, and Maury Wills, in the minors. But the Wills of then was not the Wills of today."

The odds-makers have made the Dodgers an 11-10 choice in the opener and a 7-5 favorite to capture the Series.

Both managers plan to use only three starters, no matter how long the Series lasts. The second game on Thursday will be a southpaw duel between the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax and the Twins' Jim Kaat. Both threw lightly in the bullpen Tuesday.

"No, I have no bad effects after pitching last Saturday with two days' rest," said Koufax, who is troubled by an arthritic condition in the elbow of his pitching arm. "There is no swelling and the arm feels fine."

Koufax, of Jewish faith, will spend most of today in a temple, observing the Yom Kippur holiday.

"There are no TV sets in a temple," he answered when asked whether he planned to watch the opener on television.

Mele said he chose Kaat over Camilo Pascual for the second game simply because the southpaw deserved it more.

"Jim has been a big pitcher for us all year," said Mele. "Camilo hasn't been pitching so often since his arm operation."

Pascual, who underwent surgery for removal of a tumor under the armpit, will pitch the third game, Saturday, in Los Angeles. Friday has been set aside for travel. Alston already has nominated left-hander Claude Osteen for the third game.

"Pascual has shown no sign of arm trouble," said Twins' pitching coach Johnny Sain. "He's 100 per cent sound. In fact, he's just as good, if not better, than he was before the operation."

Alston didn't say anything about Osteen but the record speaks for itself. As a member of the Washington Senators, Osteen defeated the Twins six times without a loss.

"They had me 4-0 one day but I got lucky," said the pitcher Alston once called the unluckiest in baseball. "It rained and the game was called after four innings."

Potters, Newton Falls In 1st Meeting; Tigers Face Big Red

Beaver Local Will Try To Upset Unbeaten United Eleven

Newton Falls invades East Liverpool to mark the first grid meeting between the schools in the Potters homecoming game, Wellsville goes up against ninth ranked Steubenville Big Red and Beaver Local tackles undefeated United in three of 13 games set for district elevens this weekend.

This week marks the halfway point of the season for most local teams who will be engaged in their fifth game of the campaign.

Newton Falls from Trumbell County was undefeated until last week when a powerful Ravenna team remained unbeaten with a 30-6 victory. Friday's opponent chalked up victories over Minerva, (30-6), Windham (12-16) and Howland (28-6).

East Liverpool will be trying to get in the win column Friday after a loss at Oak Glen and last week's tie with Steubenville Central.

-:-

WELLSVILLE will have its hands full when the Tigers meet Steubenville Big Red Friday at Steubenville. It will mark the first meeting between the two schools since 1925.

Led by fullback Bob Smith, Coach Abe Bryan has assembled a powerhouse. Big Red was ranked ninth in the first Ohio football poll after compiling four straight victories.

-:-

BRYAN calls Smith one of the top fullbacks in the state. Big Red is young with only nine seniors on a varsity squad of 31 players.

Steubenville also will be awaiting the appearance of Chris (Thunder) Thornton who has surpassed the 100-yard mark in every game and has nine touchdowns to his credit.

-:-

COACH Don Ross will attempt to raise his Beaver Local charges to the heights when he sends them against United Saturday afternoon at Hanoverton.

United remains as the kingpin in the district with four straight victories all of which makes it more inviting for the Beavers to pull an upset.

Beaver Local is coming out of a 20-12 defeat to unbeaten Jefferson Union.

Coach Bob Starkey and his Oak Glen team are on the road again this weekend traveling to Follansbee for a Saturday afternoon battle beginning at 2.

-:-

OAK GLEN currently is riding a three game win streak and has not been scored upon in its last two games.

Follansbee, after two early setbacks has bounced back to win its last three including a 12-0 victory over Mingo Junction last week.

In other games on Friday's list of eight, Midland, after jumping back to the winning side, will host Monaca.

-:-

COACH Joe Cochran's Leopards have been troubled with injuries but put together enough forces to knock Burgettstown from the unbeaten ranks last Saturday with a 6-0 win.

Stanton Local, its record marred last week by a tie with Wayne, will go after its fourth win at Adena.

The Tri-County League shows East Palestine visiting Lisbon in their annual game while a powerful Minerva club visits Leetonia.

-:-

CANFIELD is at Columbiana in a non-league clash and a strong Eastern Ohio power — Marietta—visits Salem.

In addition to the Oak Glen-Follansbee and Beaver Local-United contests Saturday, three other games are slated with Southern going after its second victory at Springfield Local of Mahoning County while McDonald visits Crestview and South Side returns home for the first time in several weeks meeting Millvale in an afternoon game at 2.

Westgate-East Meet Thursday Afternoon

Undefeated and unscored upon Westgate will face city rival East Junior High Thursday at Patterson Field with kickoff at 4:15 p. m. Westgate has rolled to three straight victories while East takes a 1-1-1 mark into the contest.

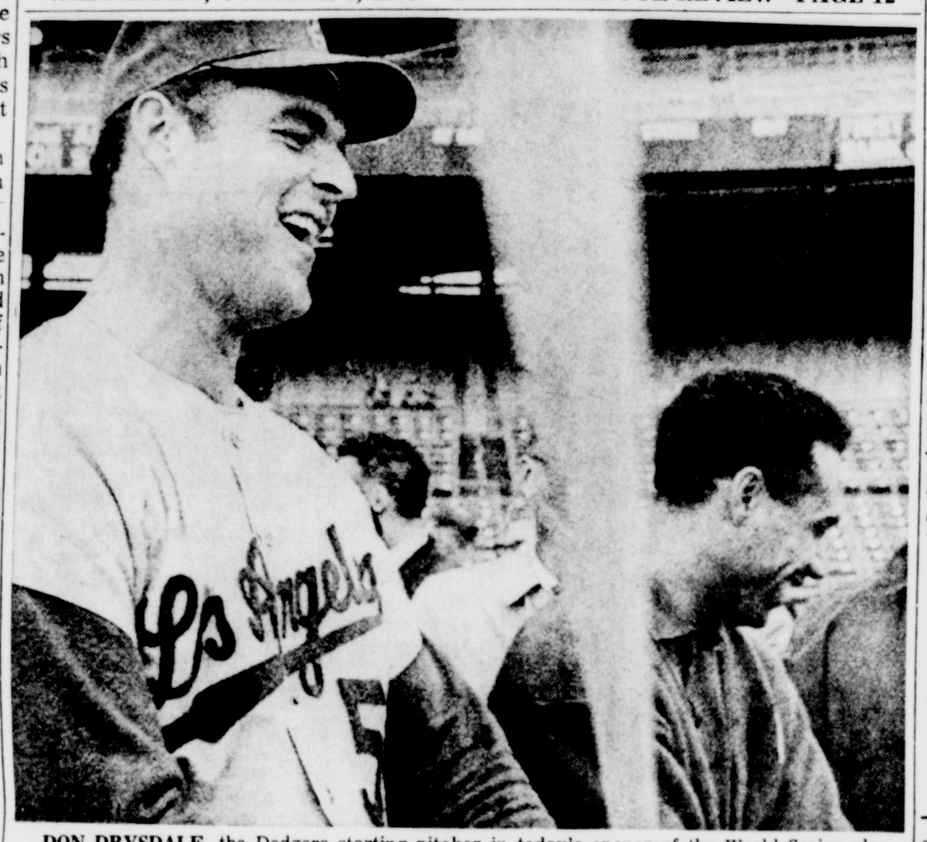
Lions First On Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit and defense again are synonymous. And the payoff has been three straight victories for the unbeaten Lions, despite an offense that ranks lowest in the National Football League.

NFL statistics released today show the Lions first in team defense, allowing 601 yards in their three games — 299 rushing and 302 passing. Detroit has gained only 65 more yards than it has allowed, however — 666, for 14th and last place.

The Lions are 12th in both running, 277 yards, and passing, 389 yards, and tied for eighth in scoring with 65 points.

San Francisco is the leading offensive club in total yards, 1,238, passing yards, 811, and scoring, 103 points. Cleveland, powered by Jim Brown, is the top rushing team with 541 yards.



DON DRYSDALE, the Dodgers starting pitcher in today's opener of the World Series also swings a heavy bat. Drysdale is shown lecturing Twins Zoilo Versalles (right) who turns away from the Los Angeles pitcher. Drysdale was one of the leading hitters with the not so powerful Dodgers. (UPI Telephoto)

Costello, Fiss Should Start In Steeler Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP)—Injured linebackers Galen Fiss and Vince Costello should be ready to start Saturday night when the Cleveland Browns face the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Probably helping the pair make quick recoveries from leg injuries received in the Browns' loss to St. Louis Sept. 26 were their replacements, Sidney Williams and Dale Lindsey.

"Both of these men came through in great fashion for us," said Coach Blanton Collier after the Browns defeated Philadelphia 35-17 last Sunday.

Williams, from Southern University and a 16th draft choice, filled in for Fiss at the right linebacker spot. He intercepted a pass early in the game and pounced on Tim Brown's fumble on the two-yard line to set up the touchdown that wiped out a 17-14 Eagles' lead in the fourth quarter.

His performance was worthy of a game ball—presented by Fiss, the team captain.

Lindsey, who filled in for Costello at Middle linebacker, is from Western Kentucky, where he was a three-year little All-American. He was the Browns' seventh draft choice. One rival Ohio Valley Conference coach had this to say about Lindsey: "He was the most ferocious tackler our league has ever seen."

Aparicio Considering Quitting Big Leagues

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Baltimore Orioles said Tuesday he is considering quitting major league baseball.

3 Gridders Wage Battle For Local Scoring Lead

Only one team stands on the heap of district football squads with an unblemished record while a three-way battle is on for the individual scoring leadership.

United with a perfect 4-0 mark leads the district after Stanton Local was forced into a tie with Wayne.

—:—

ONE OF the main reasons why United remains undefeated is Fritz Ziegler, the Eagles speedy halfback, who moved right into the thick of the district scoring race with three touchdowns and two conversions Saturday against Springfield Local in United's 44-0 win.

The latest outburst moved Ziegler into second place with a total of 50 points for the season. Wellsville's All-Ohio candidate Chris Thornton maintained the lead with two touchdowns against Southern Local for a total of nine and 54 points.

—:—

LARRY ROBERTS, Beaver Local's fine back, continued very much in the running with two touchdowns and has a total of 48 points.

Rounding out the top five scorers are Elmer Tice of Stanton with 36 while Doug Hamilton of Stanton and Wellsville's Harry Thornton are tied with 30 each.

—:—

UNITED in being No. 1 also shows the best defensive totals. United has allowed only two touchdowns in four games while scoring 112 points on its opponents.

Wellsville is the team leader in scoring with 114 points in four outings.

Purdue Given Nod Over Iowa; Pitt Ranked Underdog

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvey, the invisible rabbit of a dozen years ago, contributed his left, rear paw for this batch of football winners while on a visit to civilization from his home in Upset Gulch.

Help is needed. Last week the seasonal average went down to .709.

So do your stuff, Harvey.

Texas over Oklahoma: Tommy Nobis, the Longhorn linebacker, is healthy and that is reason enough.

Nebraska over Wisconsin: The Huskers have two brilliant quarterbacks while Wisconsin has only one and he's just maturing.

Arkansas over Baylor: This is the squad that figured to bring Baylor its first Southwest Conference title in 42 years but injuries have decimated it.

Georgia over Clemson: The Bulldogs have a fierce bite on defense.

Michigan State over Michigan: Two Big Ten powers in a neighborly feud. Normally, the Wolverines' home field would mean an edge but the Spartans' don't realize it.

Purdue over Iowa: The Boilermakers' Bob Griese bests the Hawkeyes' Gary Snook in the all-important aerial department.

Washington over Southern California: The record says Southern Cal but it is the Trojans who must make the trip into the harsh northland.

Duke over Pittsburgh: Your television menu. The Panthers aren't consistent.

Mississippi State over Southern Mississippi: This is enough to make strong men weep.

Mississippi over Florida: The Rebels get their attack to function for one massive push.

Alabama over Vanderbilt: Alabama's single platoon is better than Vanderbilt's two.

Notre Dame over Army: Nick Rassas, the Irish expert on punt returns, is faster than a sorority house rumor.

Other choices:

Bowling Green over Western Michigan, Cincinnati over Xavier, Kent State over Miami of Ohio, Louisville over Dayton, Minnesota over Indiana, Northwestern over Oregon State, Toledo over Ohio University, West Virginia over The Citadel.

Kent State, Miami Vie In Feature

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Upstart Kent State, stamped as a darkhorse in the topsy - turvy Mid-American Conference football race, has a chance to improve its position Saturday.

The Golden Flashes, impressive in a relatively easy 27-10 triumph over Ohio University last week, entertain rebounding Miami in the loop's feature game.

Second - year Coach Leo Strang, still basking in the victory over the Bobcats, says frankly he's "worried about Miami."

The Redskins hold a clearcut 10-2 edge in the series and Strang admits "we have a history of blowing games against them.

"We've got a lot of catching up to do. We were sky high against Ohio and can't afford a letdown."

Biggest gun for the Golden Flashes last week was soph Billy Blunt, the Massillon product who dazzled with his versatile performance.

Blunt took one pass away from three defenders for a touchdown and ran a punt back 73 yards for another. He also connected on a 47-yard pass that led to a third score.

Miami showed good offensive power in handing Western Michigan its first loss, 36-9. Halfback Al Moore set the pace by running back the opening kickoff 95 yards en route to a three-score performance.

In the others, unbeaten Marshall burst Toledo's bubble 14-0 as Mickey Jackson added two more touchdowns for a total of nine in three games.

Bowling Green was unimpressive outside the loop, finally wearing down punchless Dayton in the second half for a 9-0 decision. The Falcons will have to do better if they're to repeat as MAC champions.

Coach Bob Gibson's BG crew opens league warfare in a home contest against Western while winless Ohio U. tries again to kick the losing habit in a tussle at Toledo.

Marshall catches the twice-beaten Quantico Marines in a bid for its fourth straight.

West Virginia's McCune Is Named Back Of Week

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — The West Virginia University football brochure describes quarterback Allen McCune as a cool scrambler who "clicks . . . under pressure."

The 22-year-old senior lived up to the billing last Saturday as he passed for five touchdowns to lead the Mountaineers, first in the nation in total offense, to a whopping 63-48 victory over Pittsburgh. He also ran for another score, while completing 18 of 25 passes.

McCune again exhibited his calm disposition Tuesday when informed in the WVU dressing room he had been selected Associated Press Back of the Week.

"I didn't expect it," he said, "but I'm glad to get the award. Now I'd better forget it and concentrate on this week's game with The Citadel.

McCune may be able to forget it, but Citadel Coach Eddie Teague can't. While McCune was talking Tuesday, Teague had his defensive secondary working on McCune's favorite pass plays.

And well he should. "Coon," as his teammates call him, has completed 36 of 52 aerials this season for nine touchdowns in pacing undefeated West Virginia to three victories.

"Anybody could have done it with the blocking I've been getting," he said. "Our line was terrific against Pitt and the receivers really help a guy's confidence. . . they catch anything in sight."

McCune broke a WVU record by completing 57.5 per cent of his passes last year after taking over the quarterback chores after the fourth game. "I'm passing better this year," he said, "because I have more time."

Some Minnesota Fans Can't Quite Believe It

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — All signs pointed to a World Series opening here today, but you could find a surprising number of people in this North country who weren't quite ready to believe it until Jim Grant fired the first pitch to Maury Wills.

Sure, the big leagues came to this land of 10,000 lakes in 1961 when the Washington Senators became the Minnesota Twins.

But a World Series was something that happened in places like New York and San Francisco, and men named Mantle and Mays played in it. Now here it is, at Metropolitan Stadium in suburban Bloomington.

The other team is the Los Angeles Dodgers, and men like Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles are swinging at the pitches of Don Drysdale, and it all seems a little unreal to more people than would care to admit it.

In fact, the favorite question this summer when the Twins grabbed the American League lead and wouldn't let go was, "are the Twins for real?"

They were, and now the hotels are full, the restaurants are full, Metropolitan Stadium is full, and, inevitably, a few of the fans are full, too.

The 90 per cent of the fans who couldn't get any of the 46,000 tickets will be watching on television. The Series is expected to disrupt practically all local business.

It also appears to have made an honest man of the weather man. The entire month of September, in this northernmost Series site, was nasty enough to send ducks south—cold, windy and rainy. But when the Twins won the pennant, the sun came out and it got warm—relatively speaking. A high of 65, and no rain, with a hitter's wind from the northwest is the outlook.

Flag-draped and baseball crazy Minneapolis and St. Paul are two cities along the Mississippi who feud about many things but who got together on the Twins, the only team named after a state until the Los Angeles Angels recently moved to Anaheim and became the California Angels.

Colts' Boyd Cited In NFL For Defense

By The Associated Press

Bob Boyd was awarded the game ball by the Baltimore Colts Sunday for a superior defensive job in the Colts' 27-24 victory over San Francisco. His performance was enough to earn Associated Press recognition as the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 27-year-old cornerback who had his troubles with Gary Collins in the championship game last December, intercepted two San Francisco passes and returned one for a touchdown on a 17-yard run.

He also made several outstanding tackles, at times taking down both blocker and ball carrier at the same time. Bernie Casey, his man, caught only one pass.

"He was all-pro last season and he's having a great one gain," Baltimore coach Don Shula told AP staffer George Bowen.

Ron Kostelnik of Green Bay earned a citation from staffer Ken Hartnett for his fine effort in the first half as a defensive tackle. The fifth-year pro from the University of Cincinnati led a big rush against Chicago's Bill Wade forcing a fumble that stopped a touchdown threat.

Georgia Star Is Selected Top Lineman

By The Associated Press

The Georgia Bulldogs whipped Michigan 15-7 last week demonstrating that their earlier 18-17 upset of Alabama was no fluke. One of the standouts in Georgia's victory over the Wolverines was tackle George Patton.

For his sterling performance in helping the unbeaten Bulldogs gain their third straight victory and fourth place in this week's national Associated Press poll, Patton was selected today as the Lineman of the Week.

"If George Patton isn't All-America there isn't one in the country," said Georgia coach, Vince Dooley, after the Michigan game.

Patton, a defensive ace, is a 21-year-old junior from Tuscumbia, Ala. The 6-foot-3, 210-pounder played quarterback in high school, but was switched to tackle in the 1964 spring drills and gained an enviable reputation as a sophomore lineman last fall. He comes from a football-playing family. His brother, Houston, played at Mississippi a decade ago and another brother, Jim, played at Alabama four years ago.

The East Liverpool Cross Country team, after suffering its first defeat of the season, came back Tuesday to defeat Salem by a perfect score of 15-49 at the Country Club.

Following closely behind Loy was Greg Manning, second, Jerry Wood, third, Pete Manning, fourth, Rick Forzano, fifth, Mike Kelly, sixth and Don Smith, eighth.

Rick Hackett was home first for Salem finishing seventh.

East Liverpool will run at the Bellaire Invitational Saturday with 10 teams entered.

The Potters record now is 3-1.

Ohio Liquor Unit Acts On 3 County Permits

The Ohio Liquor Control Board at Columbus said today it is processing an application for the transfer of a permit of a Lisbon business and has issued new permits to two East Palestine businesses.

A C-2 permit held by Willis L. Coleman Jr. of the Buckeye Beverage Store, 127 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, is being transferred to the ownership of James E. Smith, for the same address. The application was filed Sept. 29.

A C-2 permit is for the carry-out sale of high-powered beer and wine.

New C-1 and C-2 permits have been issued Nancy Flowers of Flowers Carry-Out Service, 719 W. Martin St., East Palestine, while Willis L. Whitehead, 568 E. Martin St., East Palestine, has been granted a C-1 permit.

A smart shopper is described in a Department of Agriculture pamphlet as one who fully reads all labels, counts change, watches weights and measures.

Britain's Big Worry—Stars Are Too Well

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Britain's main worry today in trying to win back the Ryder Cup from the United States was that its professional golf stars are feeling too well.

"It takes a little injury or sickness to bring the best out of a player," said British non-playing captain Harry Weetman ruefully. "I know our boys usually play a lot better if they have something wrong with them."

Weetman was commenting on the latest report of the American sick parade. With 24 hours to go before the start of the cup matches, this was how the United States casualties were shaping up:

Johnny Pott, 29-year-old star from Gulf Hills, Miss., said that his pulled back muscle would keep him out of the foursomes on the opening day Thursday.

"It wouldn't be fair to my partner if I played," Pott said. "I hope I shall be well enough to get into the match later."

Ken Venturi, winner of the 1964 U.S. Open, played brilliant golf in practice Tuesday and said he had recovered from an operation on his hands.

Tony Lema arrived from the Canada Cup in Madrid complaining of a sore arm.

Against this, Weetman reported that his whole team was fighting fit. He contended that the British showed up better than the Americans in practice Tuesday.

Today, both teams were concentrating on four-ball practice in preparation for the opening matches. They had to name their foursomes pairings by early afternoon.

Byron Nelson, non-playing captain of the U.S. team, said he would keep an open mind about naming his pairs until he had seen his men in final practice.

Quarterback Going After Rushing Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern Mississippi's Vic Purvis, a quarterback on the run, is making an impressive early bid to become the first signal-caller ever to capture the national major college rushing title.

Purvis, by rolling up 203 yards on the ground last week in his school's 28-7 victory over Richmond, exchanged places with Mike Garrett of Southern California, the previous leader, according to weekly NCAA statistics released today.

His second straight plus-200-yard game gave Purvis 476 rushing yards in three games and a four-yard edge over Garrett. The USC ace has carried the ball 88 times — 30 more than Purvis.

Meanwhile, sophomore Billy Stevens of Texas Western continues to pace the total offense leaders despite his marked shortcomings as a ball carrier. The Miners' quarterback, thrown for 129 yards in losses rushing, has passed for 1,106, more than any major college player ever has amassed in the season's first three games.

Stevens, with 977 net yards, leads runner-up Bob Griese of Purdue by 86. Purvis is third with 683 yards.

Some population experts predict that about 350 million Americans will be driving 300 million cars at the turn of the century.

First Rural Mailman Recalls 1898 Winter

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — One snowy March in the terrible winter of 1898, America's first rural mail carrier looked out of the window at solid drifts of white and cringed.

For Joshua N. Corbin, now 91, knew he would have to ride his horse, Harry, through 34 miles of deep drifts to get the mail through.

Reflecting on those early days, Corbin chuckled as he said the mail didn't always get through — particularly that day it snowed so hard in '98.

"It took me a whole week to deliver the route in snow up to my horse's breast," he said.

Corbin was one of four rural carriers in the nation's first rural free delivery experimental program in Carroll County, Md. He was the first of the four to start, on Oct. 1, 1896, when he was 22.

He said in those early days people used everything from teapots to cigar boxes as mail receptacles.

And not all of them wanted the mail delivered: "One man — a Republican — told me to keep in the middle of the road when I passed his place.

"And some men didn't like it because they were used to going into Westminster for the mail. It gave them a chance to sit around the country store-post office and talk."

Corbin said most of the country folk in those days viewed the rural carrier as something of a federal interloper and were somewhat hostile.

Corbin describes himself as a life-long Democrat who voted for President Johnson.

He said he has enjoyed good health because "I never smoked a paper-wrapped cigarette or chewed tobacco." But he added, a twinkle in his eye, "I have been known to take a drink now and again."

Corbin said he earned $25 a month as a rural carrier. On the strength of this slary, he said he got married. He has been a widower 19 years.

Liquor Permits All Will Expire On Same Date

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio' 25,000 liquor license holders were notified Tuesday that their permits all will expire next year on the same date—Oct. 1.

State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook outlined in notices to permit holders the provisions of a new state law authorizing the department to establish a uniform expiration date.

Cook explained that permit fees will be pro-rated on the basis of the length of time the permits will be in effect before the Oct. date.

Cook said the uniform date "is intended to increase efficiency in the department's permit division and to enable simpler handling of renewal by permit holders."

Chester Council Given Details Of CATV Setup

Representatives of CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., discussed problems relative to the possibility of providing cable antenna television service for the Chester area during Tuesday night's meeting of Chester Council.

William R. Webber of East Liverpool, named systems manager of the corporation Aug. 19 following its organization July 14, introduced himself to Council members and explained that his purpose at the meeting was not to submit a formal proposal at the present time, but to endeavor to determine whether or not the city of Chester might be interested in a franchise similar to those for East Liverpool and Wellsville.

ANSWERING questions of Council members, he said that he assumed that the same general rates and percentages would apply to all the communities, but that this would depend on any final contract.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, asked Webber whether or not an installation fee would be charged individual subscribers to the system. Webber explained that initial subscribers in the East Liverpool and Wellsville area not being charged a hook-on fee and that the same situation would apply to Chester residents.

Charles Kology, councilman, stated that customer rates would be much higher than those now being paid under the present television system.

IN ANSWER, Ralph R. Betts, representative of Rego Industries, Inc., of Hoboken, N. J., which merged with Columbiana CATV, Inc., owned by The Review and the Neptune Broadcasting Corp. of Steubenville, to form the Ohio Valley concern, explained that no one is forced to join the system, that individuals sign no contracts and that participation is strictly on a voluntary basis.

Jackman Vodrey, East Liverpool attorney who is secretary for CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., further explained that the company would offer a modern, up-to-date system, with such possible advantages as the reception of FM channels through television sets.

Various problems regarding installation of lines and the location of the television antenna were discussed.

Vodrey said that, according to reports of engineers, it would be possible to mount a central antenna for the entire East Liverpool - Wellsville - Chester - Newell area, resulting a simplified maintenance, thus lowering over-all operation costs.

—:—

WEBBER explained that technicalities would be worked out in future proposals.

Questions on possible legal problems involving interstate rates, state utility laws and the amount of jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission and the Federal Communications Commission were referred to James Jordan, city solicitor, who attended the session.

Kology reminded Council members that a study of the current contract, in effect since 1953, had been started at a previous meeting and that the study should be followed through.

Donald Hissam and Percy Willison, Council members, expressed a desire to protect the residents of Chester by insuring the stability of rates and preserving individual freedom of choice in the matter.

Vodrey explained that the public is protected by city ordinances covering the system and agreed to send copies of the East Liverpool ordinance to the Council members for further study.

In other business, Council voted on a motion by Hissam and seconded by Councilman Richard Johnston — that basketball on the floor at the City Building be limited to Chester students up through the ninth grade and that adult supervisors be present at all times.

Cashdollar, in submitting the treasurer's report, reported a bank balance of $11,110.96 for the quarter ending Sept. 30. Collections and disbursements amounted to $33,854.14 and $22,743.18, respectively.

Mayor Harry Abrams announced that $356 had been received in police fines during the quarter.

Remittances totaling $8,500 were ordered turned into the city treasury and bills in the amount of $6,671.70 were ordered paid.

All Council members were present.

Mechem said the agenda will include election of a permanent chairman.

The legislature created the commission this year to make an extensive study of collection, administration and distribution of taxes at the state and local levels. It is scheduled to submit its report to the 1967 General Assembly.

Came From Fuel Cells

Gemini 5 Carried A Hot, 126-Year-Old Idea In Tail

NEW YORK (AP)—The Gemini 5 spacecraft darted across the summer night like a small excited star—with a hot, 126-year-old idea in its tail.

Probably within the coming decade, that idea will be providing power for more and more of traveling America.

The Gemini 5 power came from fuel cells — flameless, smokeless, noiseless fuel cells.

They produce electricity, with hardly a moving part. And the only exhaust is water.

It is a neat, simple and beautiful idea. But it will be some time — if ever — before fuel cells produce the power for your home. Still it's nice to think about.

The compact package in the basement or the hall closet — not so much as a loud whisper, fueled by gas tanks delivered each month, unaffected by storms or winds.

The fuel cells that powered Gemini 5 weighed less than an astronaut. Yet they did the job of a ton of storage batteries.

The beauty of it is that it uses a natural and highly efficient phenomenom: the oxidation of an element — actually the quiet burning of hydrogen gas. It borrows the electrons freed temporarily in this chemical reaction, uses them as electricity, and returns them to complete the reaction

The silence, portability, smokelessness and smoglessness of the fuel cells makes them ideal for some uses — as low-weight power for battlefield radar; for truck that operate on electricity indoors; for isolated, unmanned stations like beacons or buoys.

Perhaps eventually, some fuel cell manufacturers hope, the silent, smogless power may operate America's cars and trucks, for fuel cells are by far more efficient than internal combustion engines.

Ironically the fuel cell is an old idea. The first one was made by Sir William Grove in 1839. By the end of the 19th century it was being widely hailed as the power source that would warm and run American homes within a few years.

It still hasn't happened.

But 20th century know-how and materials are producing efficient fuel cells like the ones on Gemini 5 — and manufacturers expect to begin testing their industrial and domestic uses.

The Gemini fuel cells worked most simply of all — by joining hydrogen and oxygen, using the freed electrical energy, and in the end producing water.

It's a contradiction of the old maxim — "neither a borrower, nor a lender be."

The fuel cell does both — and profitably.

It has two stations — call them the borrowing and lending stations. Hydrogen gas enters at the borrowing station where the electrons orbiting the hydrogen atoms are borrowed and put to work, traveling through a wire as electricity. The denuded hydrogen atom, or ion, heads for the lending station where oxygen has been introduced. Hydrogen and oxygen combine readily.

At the lending station, electrons that have already done their electrical work for man are fed back in to complete the chemical reaction — the joining of hydrogen and oxygen to produce water.

In later Gemini flights, the water produced by the fuel cells will be filtered for drinking purposes.

Whatever the future of fuel cells, in a power-hungry world weary of noise and fumes, it looks like a pretty idea.

Negro Demonstrators Again Fail To Board School Buses

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Negro demonstrators ran through state police lines today in another futile attempt to board school buses with white children. State police chased them down.

Two Negro youths went limp after they were collared by troopers. They were carried to patrol cars and hauled off to jail. Some of the demonstrators were girls.

A group of about 17 Negro pupils tried to get through the police blockade at one end of the street to get on the three school buses carrying white pupils to surrounding counties. Then a smaller group appeared at the opposite end of the street and got near the buses but state troopers stood in front of the bus doors.

Troopers wrestled several of the Negroes to the ground.

Civil rights leaders have begun a drive for wholesale withdrawal of Negro children from schools in seven counties to provide recruits for a 100-mile march to Georgia's Capitol.

"We are going to march to Atlanta to get what we want," shouted a youthful Negro, the Rev. Charles Brown of Americus, Ga., during a courthouse rally Tuesday night.

The Crawfordville-Atlanta march is being planned to climax efforts here to bring about school integration in Taliaferro County.

In Amercus Tuesday, police arrested 53 demonstrators, most of them juveniles, who attempted to coax Negro pupils from a high school. Demonstrators urged the students to leave and take part in the march.

Americus is in southwest Georgia and Crawfordville is about 100 miles east of Atlanta.

Negroes scheduled a sit-in at their segregated school in Crawfordville after Negro pupils had carried books to the vacated white school Tuesday for what was labeled a teach-in.

All the white pupils transferred from their school here before the fall term began and the school did not open. It now is locked and deserted. About 70 Negroes had applied for a transfer to the school.

The sit-in at Murden High, the Negro schol, was aimed at drawing the remaining pupils from their classes, said J. T. Johnson of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which is directing the drive.

Peking Files Protest Over India Attacks

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged in a protest to the Indian Embassy in Peking today that Indian troops have "repeatedly carried out armed provocations against Chinese personnel" in the Tibet-Sikkim border.

The New China News Agency said the note says "that on Oct. 2, a group of Indian soldiers intruded into Chinese territory through Ya La (Yak La) on the China-Sikkim boundary and opened heavy fire on a unit of Chinese frontier guards.

"The intruders fired more than 200 rounds and wounded a Chinese frontier guard."

The note charged that a group of Indian soldiers opened fire with light and heavy machine guns and mortars on Chinese guards in the same area on two occasions Monday.

Peking accused India of starting the clash Monday at Yak La along the Sikkim-Tibet border in the Himalayas.

But in New Delhi the Indian Defense Ministry, commenting on the incident, charged that Chinese Communist soldiers had intruded 100 yards inside Sikkim and fired on the Indians.

Moon Landing Slated Thursday For Luna 7

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet moon shot, Luna 7, will land on the moon Friday at about 1 a.m. Moscow time (5 p.m., EDT, Thursday), Tass announced today.

Luna 7 was launched Monday. This was the first official word of when it is expected to reach the moon.

There has been no announcement on the purpose of the flight, the third moon shot made by the Soviet Union this year. But it was believed to be an attempt to make a soft landing on the moon.

Taxpayers Group Files Suit Aimed At Conservancy Unit

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A group of taxpayers have filed a suit to determine whether a conservancy district can assess property owners for money to cover its operating budget without first obtaining voter approval.

The suit was filed Tuesday in Clinton County Common Pleas Court by David F. Myers and others, charging that the two-year 0.3 mill assessment proposed by the Little Miami River Conservancy District amounts to illegal taxation.

Myers' suit asks for a temporary injunction against county officials who would collect the tax from property owners in the county. The assessment under resolution No. 1 of the reactivated conservancy district also would affect some people in Clermont, Hamilton, Greene and Warren counties.

The suit charges that the assessment should have been submitted to voters or to the County Budget Commission. The resolution was adopted Aug. 20, 1965.

Backers of the suit estimate the assessment would raise more than $300,000 from the five counties while the conservancy district directors' budget through 1967 calls for only $45,000. They say Clinton County residents would have to pay up to $64,000 on the initial assessment and "failure to pay is a lien on your property."

Greene County would be the only one to benefit from the assessment, the suit added, since three watershed there contains 17 likely sites for impoundment. The backers of the suit said the district's plans will have nothing to do with flood control on Cassar Creek and East Fork Reservoirs.

Named as defendants in the suit were Dorothy Smith, Clinton County treasurer; County Auditor William H. Robinson; and conservancy board members Lawson Ordean of Xenia, Edward R. Dieckman of Cincinnati and J. E. Carnahan of Blanchester.

Ohioan Says He's Perfected Better Harvester Of Tobacco

WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP)—Clifford Vogel says he has perfected a better tobacco harvester—and some of his Brown County neighbors plan to help him get it into production.

Vogel, 31, field tested what he calls a Single Stack Tobacco System this week and says it worked out quite well. A group of Brown County businessmen play to form a company to promote the harvester.

The way Vogel describes it, the harvester can be operated by only two persons—say, the farmer and his wife.

Vogel's harvester consists of two units—a field cutting unit, and a conveyor type elevator for hanging cut tobacco in the barn. The cutting unit is pulled and powered by a farm tractor and is "about the size of a two-row corn planter." It cuts the tobacco close to the ground and in such a way that none of the moving parts touch the leaves.

While one person operates the tractor, the other stacks the tobacco, five or six stalks at a time onto a wagon.

Once the tobacco is off the field, the other unit comes into use.

Vogel said the elevator is attached to a light-weight ladder. One person mounts the ladder and the other slips one stalk of tobacco at a time onto the hooks attached to the leavator. The person on the ladder takes the stalk off the elevator and hangs it from a plastic cord strung under the beams. The new harvester does away with sticks for hanging in the barns.

"I tried to design this machine for the small farmer as well as the larger ones," Vogel said, adding that he worked on it for 12 years—ever since finishing high school.

Lorain's Police Have Recent Pay Hikes Rescinded

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Recent questioning by the Lorain County Grand Jury of the selective promotions in the police department has resulted in rescinding pay increases for policemen promoted in the past three years.

Adrian F. Betleski ruled that pay must return to what it was before the officers were promoted Tuesday by Antone Uhlelyi, city auditor.

The eight policemen affected by the ruling include the police chief, Robert L. Hirbe, who said he would accept the $1,800 a year reduction until there is a court ruling on the case. He currently is earning $10,000 a year.

Betleski's ruling came after the grand jury questioned the in Lorain. The promotions were based on city civil service examinations, but failed to consider efficiency ratings.

2 Americans Facing Red Germany Trial

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany apparently is planning to try two Americans for allegedly helping refugees escape to the West.

Moses Reese Herrin, 24, whose mother, Helen Montgomery, lives in Akron, Ohio, and Frederick Matthews, 23, listed as from the Philadelphia area, were arrested Sept. 19 at the East Berlin crossing point opposite the U. S. Army's Checkpoint Charlie.

East Berlin officials have made no comment on the arrests, but West Berlin sources have learned that an attorney has been contacted to represent to two men.

Heated Contest Seen In Toledo Mayor Vote

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A heated contest next November in Toledo's first mayoralty election in 30 years appeared likely following voting in Tuesday's dry-run primary.

Incumbent Mayor John W. Potter, a Republican, received 30,604 votes to 26,027 polled by his opponent, Lucas County Commissioner Ned Skeldon, a Democrat.

Freshman City Councilman Robert Savage was the leading vote-getter, with 32,966, as a field of 22 candidates for councilman was trimmed to 16 for the November election.

American railroads handled a postwar record volume of freight last year — a total of 859 billion ton-miles (one ton moved one mile).

Grazing Set Up Under Programs

LISBON — A total of 791 Columbiana County farmers who diverted acreage under the 1965 feed and grain and voluntary wheat certificate programs may graze this acreage without losing program benefits.

The starting date for such grazing was Oct. 1, J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said. He added that the date marked the end of the six-month period during which the no-grazing provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

The chairman stressed that the program relaxation regarding the use of the acreage applies only to grazing the feed grain and wheat-diverted acres. Hay on such acreage still may not be harvested.

Land diverted under the conservation reserve program may not be grazed or harvested throughout the whole year.

Detroit Delicatessen Victimized By Hound

DETROIT (AP) — A delicatessen was victimized by a bandit with long ears and sad eyes.

Clerk Sally Castranova said the intruder leaped onto a table and started chewing up a five-pound piece of ham Tuesday. When she tried to grab it, he growled, and she fled into a walk-in cooler.

The intruder, a basset hound, was captured and turned over to police by a couple of youths. "He's not causing us any trouble, he just lies their burping," reported Det. Lt. William Stearla.

The dog's owner has agreed to pay the $4.50 delicatessen's bill.

2 Drivers Are Fined, Third Forfeits Bond

NEW CUMBERLAND — Two New Cumberland motorists were fined and a Youngstown man forfeited bond in police court Monday conducted by Judge John D. Herron.

Walter Freeman, 22, was fined $20 and costs for speeding and George C. Fisher, 30, $10 and costs for hazardous driving. Billy J. Love, 45, the Youngstown motorist, who had been charged with improper passing Friday, forfeited $16 appearance bond.

All three were cited by Police Chief Jake Baxter.

'Triple Show'

Bands To Combine Friday Night

A "Triple" halftime show will be featured Friday night at Patterson Field during the homecoming game between the East Liverpool Potters and Newton Falls.

It will offer a combined performance by the East Liverpool Twin Marching Bands and the visiting band, with 205 musicians taking part.

The idea was worked out by Vincent Maola, band director here, and John W. Hutson, the director at Newton Falls and a former director at Stanton Local High School.

THE DIRECTORS gave three primary reasons for the decision to present the "Triple" show:

1. — Since the Homecoming queen ceremonies take up a great deal of time, both bands are more or less handicapped in endeavoring to present a complete program.

2. — A special treat both for the fans and the queen and her court.

3. — The building of good relationships between individual students, schools and communities.

Under the arrangement, the bands have been holding individual rehearsals, with the program to be merged Friday night.

THE SHOW will feature a precision drill by the combination of 205 musicians, with the fight songs of both schools being utilized. The Homecoming queen and her court will be serenaded with a selection, "March America," by Bill Moffit of Michigan State University.

The halftime will conclude with the playing of the two schools' alma maters by the combined bands.

The Newton Falls band will arrive here Thursday night and be overnight guests at the homes of East Liverpool band members. On Friday, the visitors will attend classes at the high school and later hold practice with the local musicians.

Refreshments will be served both bands following the halftime show and again at the MA before the departure of the visitors for Newton Falls.

Latest Difficulty Total Surprise

Johnson Never Gave Hint Of Gall Bladder Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson looks like a man enjoying perfect health. This is the general impression of most people who see him regularly.

If Johnson has given any hint — outside his inner circle — of the gall bladder trouble that will lead to surgery on Friday, the clues have been almost impossible to spot and went unnoticed.

To White House newsmen, who seek portents in every change of presidential demeanor, the announcement of Johnson's latest health difficulty came as a total surprise — though they see him almost every day.

Johnson did look tired and peaked at times earlier this year. But in recent weeks he has seemed fit, rested and well tanned from occasional weekend holidays in the Texas sun.

And this general impression apparently has extended to members of the inner circle. Bill D. Moyers, press secretary, said today he has seen no evidence of any slowing down of the fast- running presidential mechanism.

Tuesday, for example, Johnson handled a full schedule of appointments that ranged from a ceremonial meeting with 4-H Club representatives to a Cabinet meeting at which he disclosed his impending surgery. And he was still at work Tuesday night — entertaining a group of bankers and businessmen at a private White House dinner.

Moyers said the pace will continue until the moment Johnson enters the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital Thursday night.

Johnson has not been without physical frailities however, even as President. Though there has been no evidence, at least on the public record, that he has suffered any continuing ill effects from a moderately severe heart attack 10 years ago, he did spend 3½ days in the Bethesda hospital in January, suffering from a heavy cold that left him under par for several weeks. And he has had recurring difficulty with small growths on his hands, a condition attributed to exposure to sun.

All in all, though, Johnson's health record as President would seem to bear out a June 9 pronouncement by his personal physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley: "The President is in perfect health."

Over the years, Johnson has had two bothersome health problems, apart from his heart attack and skin troubles — occasional bronchial difficulties — evident during his January illness — and bouts with kidney stones.

Johnson first underwent surgery in January 1955 for the removal of a good-size kidney stone. That was six months before his heart attack. And seven years earlier, in 1948, a smaller stone was removed throug nonsurgical manipulation at the Mayo Clinic.

There apparently is no connection between this history of kidney stones and the fact that he now has gall stones.

As for his bronchial problem, he told newsmen during his January illness that he caught colds more often than most people — eight times, apparently in his younger years. The January cold settled in his chest and produced a case of laryngitis.

Halloween Party Set Up By Legion At Lawrenceville

Plans for a Halloween party for children of Legionnaires in the Lawrenceville area were discussed during a meeting of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 Monday night at the post home.

Twenty members were present.

It was announced that Harold Waide and Jack Menough are patients in the Veterans Hospital at Pittsburgh and that Charles Huffman is convalescing at Osteopathic Hospital in East Liverpool.

Charles Laughlin, first vice commander, presided. Chaplain Glenn Gill gave the closing prayer.

The next meeting will be Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. at the post.

Motorist Forfeits $25 On Old Parking Tags

William H. Nixon, of 603 Commerce St., Wellsville, forfeited a $25.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court on a charge he failed to pay the penalty for five old parking tickets.

In an affidavit filed by "Meter Maid" Leah Kelly, Nixon was charged specifically with ignoring a citation issued May 3 for an alleged overtime violation at a parking meter on E. 5th St. Attached to the affidavit were four more tickets which he allegedly had ignored.

Nixon's case was another in a series filed by "Meter Maids" in cleaning up a backlog of violations dating back to last spring.

Brecksville Motorist Fined On Patrol Count

Francis Newark, 45, of Brecksville was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance filed by the State Highway Patrol after an auto mishap on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

Newark pleaded guilty to the charge before Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp. The patrol reported he was involved in a two-way "chain reaction" crash on Sept. 29. Newark told the court an auto stopped on the highway and the car ahead of him also stopped, but he was unable to halt in time.

Commissioners Meet

Rodak To Name Deputy As Hancock Humane Aide

Sheriff Joe Rodak was instructed to designate a deputy as humane officer during the meeting Monday of the Hancock County commissioners at the courthouse in New Cumberland.

The action followed a request from the Animal Rescue Society at the Sept. 7 meeting that a humane officer be appointed to assist in prevention of cruelty to animals, following reports of instances where dogs, cats and horses had been mistreated.

The court agreed at that time to ask the prosecuting attorney for information relative to the law.

In other business, the commissioners accepted the resignation of Mrs. Irene Cullen, sheriff's office deputy. Following the request of Rodak, the court approved the appointment of Martha Cullen as her replacement.

Andrew Kondik, Civil Defense director, was authorized to take action to recover an amphibious vehicle sold by the city of New Cumberland.

A motion passed in the September meeting relative to mileage expenses for county employes was amended. It was pointed out that the rate of 10 cents per mile previously approved for all county employes using private vehicles could apply only to the sheriff and deputies and the tax assessor's department, in according with present legislation.

Evans moved that the motion be revised to cover only those departments, with other county employes to receive the former rate of eight cents per mile.

Rodak was given permission to attend the governor's conference on "Keeping West Virginia Beautiful" in Charleston Oct. 19.

The court also approved the request for installation of a fireplug at the courthouse annex to be used for practice drills by the firefighting school.

Korean Girls Demand Punishment Of Yank

SEOUL (AP)—About 100 Korean girls held a brief demonstration today in front of a U.S. Army unit 15 miles northwest of Seoul demanding punishment of an American soldier accused of fatally injuring a Korean prostitute.

The soldier's name was withheld. An Army provost marshal is holding him for questioning.

Singer Released On $1,500 Bond On Drug Charges

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Country singer Johnny Cash has been released on $1,500 bond after a night and a day in jail on charges of smuggling drugs.

The 33-year-old singer, wearing a gray suit with velvet collar and cuffs, was grim-faced and gave no comment to newsmen at a bond hearing before U.S. Commisioner Colbert Coldwell Tuesday night.

His lawyer, former El Paso County Judge Woodrow W. Bean, said Cash was leaving for his Casitas Springs, Calif., home.

Cash, a former Memphis, Tenn., appliance salesman who became country music's biggest sound in the mid-1950s, was charged with smuggling and concealing illicit drugs after his arrest Monday night at the El Paso International Airport.

U.S. customs agents said they found in his possession 668 tablets of a stimulant and 475 tranquilizer tablets.

At his arraignment, Cash waived preliminary hearing. Testimony brought out that he was carrying $12,000 in checks when arrested.

Doing Better Than Many Thought He Would

Premier Ky Clicks In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's daring young man on the flying trapeze is doing better than many thought he would as premier and successor to a half-dozen military rulers since Ngo Dinh Diem's fall two years ago.

The military government he heads is only a little more than three months old, but that is good — for South Viet Nam. Its life already is longer than some predicted when youthful, dashing and often bold Nguyen Cao Ky took over.

He is calling for sacrifices to support the war against the Communist Viet Cong. He is preaching a formula of getting close to the people, trying to get them to trust a Saigon government, winning them by deeds rather than lectures on ideology.

"He talks real well," said one American who has spent years watching the volatile Saigon scene. "We'll see whether it amounts to any more than that. Maybe it's too soon to tell, yet."

Ky, an air force general who turned 35 Sept. 9, still does some flying despite the demands of his duties as chief of government. He retained his post as air force commander after taking over as premier June 19.

He was catapulted to power by young generals who set up what is called officially a government directory. Americans feared there would quickly be more struggles for power and upheavals.

But while there have been rumblings of dissatisfaction — normal for Saigon — the directory has shown at least surface smoothness ir its functioning. Its military members hold regular meetings in the mountain resort city of Dalat and there was an armed forces congress recently in Saigon without any startling developments or signs that the directory was falling apart.

Ky, whose five feet five inches make him seen tiny among towering Americans, is a Buddhist and native of Hanoi, capital of the Communist regime he now fights. He became a refugee from the North after the Communists took over in 1954. The father of five children by his first wife, whom he divorced, and another by his second, he says he does not mind that he is sometimes referred to as a playboy and a dandy.

How is the Saigon government doing and what are its prospects? Much probably depends upon Ky's own personality and outlook.

Paul Dean, correspondent of the Arizona Republic and the Indianapolis Star, quotes one American colonel in charge of counterinsurgency activities in Saigon as saying:

"Since Ky has been in power, I've lost my personal dread of military coups and sleep better at night."

Two Fined By Herron In Traffic Violations

Robert E. Chafin, 20, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace John D. Herron Tuesday after being cited by West Virginia state police for a noisy automobile muffler.

In New Cumberland police court, with Herron presiding judge, Milton C. Noonen, 20, of Rochester, Pa., was fined $20 and costs after being charged with hazardous driving by Chief Jake Baxter.

Bishops Urge Church To Condemn A-Arms

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Demands rose in the Vatican Ecumenical Council today for the Roman Catholic Church to condemn all nuclear arms, even for defense, and to lend moral support to conscientious objectors.

New Fighting Reported In Central Java

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Radio Jakarta reported new fighting in central Java today and said the city of Jogjakarta, former capital of the Indonesian Republic, had changed hands three times.

One broadcast said there was no information on who now controlled Jogjakarta, 250 miles southeast of Jakarta, but added that fighting was still going on in the area.

All India Radio in New Delhi reported that Jogjakarta was in rebel hands again but gave no source for its information.

In earlier broadcasts Jakarta Radio said sporadic fighting was going on in other parts of central Java, where rebel units of the Diponegoro Division are holding out, and in the outskirts of Jakarta. One broadcast said army units loyal to President Sukarno had set up a new command to direct the fight against the rebels who, with Communist backing, tried to seize power last week.

The Indonesian radio repeatedly broadcast appeals to troops in central Java to remain loyal to Sukarno's government.

Another Jakarta broadcast reported that pro-Sukarno members of the Diponegoro division were being brutally slain by the rebels. It said one regimental commander was killed in front of his family, then his wife and children were hacked to pieces.

There was no word on the outcome of a top-level conference of military chiefs and civilian officials Sukarno called today at his summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of Jakarta.

Sukarno met with his Cabinet at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of Jakarta, to discuss the crisis. Radio Malaysia, without giving the source of its report, said Sukarno emerged from the meeting "looking quite well."

Diplomatic observers in Jakarta said Sukarno must settle two important issues to avoid an explosion: his relationship with the army, and the status of the Indonesian Communist party.

NEW YORK (AP) — Comic-actor Art Carney is in a hospital after suddenly withdrawing from a Broadway hit.

His manager, William McCaffrey, said Tuesday the 47-year-old entertainer is suffering from nervousness and depression for "a lot of reasons I won't go into."

Carney has been in "The Odd Couple" since March 10, costarring with Walter Mattau. He last appeared Saturday night and has been replaced by his standby, Paul Dooley.

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) —Count Basie and his band got to Geneva for a concert but couldn't give it because their instruments landed in Puerto Rico.

The American musicians flew to Geneva from Paris Monday night but their instruments were loaded on a plane for San Juan.

Some 1,800 jazz fans who had packed Geneva's Victoria Hall were told the concert was canceled.

NEW YORK (AP) — Movie producer Otto Preminger says the artistic integrity of his film "Anatomy of a Murder" would be destroyed if its television showing was interrupted by commercials.

Preminger appeared Tuesday in New York State Supreme Court, contending he had the sole right to edit the picture for television showing.

Justice Joseph Brust temporarily restrained Columbia Pictures Corp. and Screen Gems Inc. from distributing the film to some 100 television stations for showing Oct. 16 and afterwards.

Preminger objected to agreements under which Columbia gave stations the right to cut the film to make room for commercials.

Ike Tells OU Students 'Have Fun Every Day'

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, soldier, statesman and farmer, told Ohio University students Tuesday that regardless of the obstacles, "always have some fun every day in life."

The 75-year-old former President was here to accept an honorary doctor of humane letters degree.

"If you do not enjoy life, it is not worth living and this enjoyment comes from many things—a job well done, satisfaction in overcoming a difficult problem," Eisenhower said.

"It can be anything, just because of a charming friend you have or the place you live. Wherever it comes from, though remember a life should be a happy one, no matter what its trials."

Eisenhower reminded the students that they are passing through a period of orientation and warned them against trampling on the rights of others.

Earlier, university President Vernon R. Alden announced plans for a $7 million convocation center seating 14,000. The new building will be named Fred Beasley Center after the Athens man who became head of one of the nation's largest chain of automobile agencies.

New Modernistic Plant Unveiled In Montpelier, Ohio

MONTPELIER, Ohio (AP)—Chase Brass and Copper Co. has unveiled a new ultramodern plant here which features a direct hook-up between an X-ray spectrometer and an on-line computer.

The $7 million factory, opened for a tour by Gov. James A. Rhodes and about 130 residents of this area Tuesday, makes only one product, a brass rod used in manufacture of valves, connections and other equipment.

The plant is computer-run and will employ only 60 men when at full production of 50 million pounds a year.

The spectrometer analyzes the metal mixture of the brass and emits signals to the computer, which provides instant metallurgical information required by the furnaces to properly cast the type and quality brass log called for.

13 File To Take Exam For Health Board Job

The vacancy resulted from the death of Gene Smith in August. The Health Board is the appointing authority for the post.

Stoakes was indicted by the April 1964 grand jury on a charge of burglary at the Adkins Lumber Co. in East Liverpool on Dec. 4, 1963. He pleaded guilty June 23, 1964, and requested probation, which was granted Oct. 1, 1964.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A group of us (all parents) were discussing what goes on with teen-agers today. Some insisted that kids are no wilder than we were when we were teen-agers.

These people claimed beleaguered teens are just getting a lot of bad publicity, that the subject of teen-age sexual promiscuity has been beaten to death, that today's kids are the scapegoats for all the ills of a crazy, mixed-up world.

My wife and I would be interested in hearing what you have to say.—MR. AND MRS.

Dear Mr.: Most teens are darned good kids, and when you look at the examples set by some of their parents, they look even better.

Statistics indicate that conditions are not precisely the same today as when we were teen-agers. There are more kids in trouble today. The trouble is more serious and it comes at an earlier age than ever before. Yes, there are more teen-agers, but I am referring to percentages, not numbers.

In the last 20 years, the percentage of unwed mothers has tripled. Since 1957 the VD rate has tripled. (More than 60 per cent of the cases of reported VD fall in the 13-19-year-old group.)

Teen marriages are way up. Divorce is on the increase, and one reason is the sad record of teen - age marriages. (Such marriages have one-fifth as good a chance of succeeding as a marriage between a couple in their middle 20s.)

Teen crime is up. Teen drinking is up. Teen car accidents are up. If this picture doesn't reflect a change in teen-age behavior, then I'm the Queen of Sheba.

Mix 'Em Up

Dear Ann: I'll bet you are sick of mother-in-law problems and I hate to bother you with mine, but I need your help.

My husband and I have been married two years. He was transferred to another city five months ago and it was a God-send. His mother would not leave us alone for even one day. I was going out of my mind trying to be nice to her, even though she was at our front door before my husband left for work in the morning.

Now that we have moved 200 miles away she says her heart is acting up and she knows she isn't long for this world. So we drive 400 miles every other weekend to see her. She insists that we stay at her house.

My folks feel slighted and I don't blame them. My husband and I used to get along fine, but now we argue about this a lot. He says my folks are 15 years younger than his mother and we can stay with them after his mother is gone. I need your help.—BEAT DOWN.

Dear Beat: Sometimes the mothers with the "weak hearts" live longer than their daughters-in - law. Alternate. One trip, stay with your folks; the next trip, with your mother-in-law.

Ancient History

Dear Ann: Keith and I haven't been married very long — three months, to be exact. Something is bothering me and I'm afraid it will bother me until we get it talked out.

Keith went with a girl for two years before he started to go with me. Everyone who knew them figured they would be married one day. I had seen the girl three or four times but I never got to know her. She was very attractive and had a sweet personality.

Now that Keith and I are man and wife I think he should tell me all about her. I want to know how far they went and exactly why they broke up.

I didn't ask him these questions while we were going together because I figured it was none of my business. But now that we are married I think everything that has to do with Keith is my business.

You are a great believer in people's being honest with each other. Please print my letter and your answer. — NOTHING WITHHELD.

-:-

Dear Nothing: What happened between Keith and the girl wasn't your business THEN and it's not your business NOW.

I admire him for keeping his trap shut. He sounds like a first-rate guy to me. Keep him happy!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Cold Weather Sets Records

By The Associated Press

Cold weather maintained its grip on the Northeast today and the frigid air set records in several states.

The mercury dropped to the 20's Tuesday night in Virginia after readings in the low 30s Monday night broke state records.

Frost may have damaged the cranberry bogs of Massachusetts. Temperatures fell as low as 15 degrees in some areas. Central Maryland received its first frost of the season.

A 37-degree reading in Atlantic City, N.J., Tuesday broke a record for Oct. 5 that was set in 1883. Northern Maine had snow flurries.

Western Washington state was buffeted by winds and showers in the first strong storm of autumn. Gusty winds of 40 to 50 miles per hour were reported.

Warm southerly winds sent the mercury up to the 80s Tuesday in the Western Plains and the Dakotas, but cooler air from the Pacific moved across the region during the night. Strong winds hit some areas, with gusts up to 58 m.p.h. at Rapid City, S.D.

Chicago's Public Schools Will Get Withheld Funds

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago public schools will receive the $30 million in federal funds withheld from them last week, says Frank M. Whiston, president of the Chicago Board of Education.

The money will be released today, Whiston announced Tuesday after an all-day conference with an official of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Francis Keppel, U.S. commissioner of education, ordered the funds held up Friday because of reports of noncompliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Whiston met Tuesday with Undersecretary Wilbur J. Cohen. Whiston refused to say if President Johnson had any part in the release of funds.

Whiston said Cohen told him the department had no further objections concerning Chicago schools at this time.

Stork Club Closes In New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stork Club, a watering place for the glamorous and the curious since prohibition days, has closed its doors.

The club didn't reopen after last Saturday night, but the closing wasn't known generally until a sign appeared on the locked doors Tuesday saying the club would be relocated.

Sherman Billingsley, the club's owner, wasn't available for comment. His manager, John J. Farrell, said Billingsley was ill, although not seriously.

Farrell said the club was closed because the real estate on East 53rd Street has been sold. He said no new location has been found.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Nothing To Laugh About

Something very unfunny happens to most of TV's comedy shows. Last season nearly half of them were canceled. A total of 18 went into limbo, 15 of which were new to the '64-65 season.

Hal Humphrey

Instead of being scared off by such casualty statistics, TV's network programmers came right back this season with 17 new comedy series to add to the 21 surviving comedies in the schedule. From an early look, most of the 17 new comedies are doomed, also.

-:-

JUDGING on quality strictly, there are no more than three or four worth survival. They are "Get Smart" (NBC), "Hogan's Heroes" (CBS), "Plaase Don't Eat the Daisies" and "Hank" (NBC).

"F Troop" (ABC) and "Green Acres" (CBS) are flukey or flaky enough to survive, but I wouldn't count on them.

Of course I said this about a thing called "Gilligan's Island" last season and it's still around to haunt me. Perhaps this is one of the reasons for TV programmers' constantly flirting with comedy series. Even the silliest, most ridiculous comedy premise sometimes is accepted by TV audiences more readily than comedy rooted to reality.

-:-

BY REALITY I mean series like the old "Sgt. Bilko" (every ex-GI remembers a Bilko in his barracks), or ethnic comedies like the even older "Goldbergs" with Gertrude Berg.

Producers stay away from anything remotely related to race, creed or color these days, unless you counted last season's "Bill Dana Show" which had him portraying his Jose Jiminez character as a bellhop.

Putting people in service uniforms like "ABC's "Broadside" or "No Time for Sergeants" (both of which survived only one season) is not enough by itself to make a comedy different. Nor does simply putting a man into a household with a wife and kids necessarily make him funny.

Bing Crosby tried that last season, but the block already was too crowded with Ozzie Nelson, Donna Reed and "The Farmer's Daughter."

COMEDY, to be successful, generally require genuine characters rather than gimmicks to sustain it, but TV programmers and many comedy producers fail to discern the difference. Unfortunately there are eough freak successes of the gimmick-type on TV to convince the networks that the gimmick did it.

Another factor which is bound to spell doom for most of the current season's new comedy series is the glut. NBC's network program chief, Mort Werner, admitted to me recently that there are too many comedies on TV. He calls it an unhappy coincidence that NBC contributed the most new comedies this year.

"We took two years to plan this season's schedule, so had no way of knowing that far in advance there would be this many comedies amongst the networks," explains Werner.

-:-

ALTHOUGH he did not say so, there is no doubt that NBC's decision to swing toward comedies was at least influenced by CBS and its then high-riding TV president, James Aubrey, who was at the crest of the rating wave with a predominance of half-hour situation comedy series a couple of years ago.

It is even more ironic to hear Werner blame TV's high mortality rate among shows on the fact there are more comedies, which are tougher to do, ergo, they fail in greater numbers.

I find it hard to believe that each of the three major networks does not know what the other is planning for two years from now—in types of shows, anyway. And I think there is no doubt they tend to follow each other's example more often than striking out on their own.

-:-

WERNER REPORTS to me now that next season on NBC will be very different, "if the things turn out that we have in development now," he adds.

One of the new projects, says Werner, is a drama series anthology being created by Eric Ambler.

He neglected to tell me (it was announced two days after our talk that another NBC project is a full-hour weekly color series based on the Tarzan adventures, which one might say was first developed for the screen when Elmo Lincoln portrayed the Edgar Rice Burroughs hereo in 1918.

14B Repeal Test Vote Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A vote Friday will test senatorial views on the right of states to ban the union shop, but few senators expect it to settle anything.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, talking to newsmen today, agreed that one or more additional tests undoubtedly will be needed before any final disposition is made of the issue for this session.

The pending bill, tied up in a Senate filibuster, would repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law which permits states to forbid labor contracts that require union membership. Nineteen states now have such laws.

Mansfield announced Tuesday he would move Friday to table and thus kill the legislation, then vote against his own motion.

A tabling motion is not debatable. The Democratic leader said he was under no illusions this would bring any quick resolution of the controversy over the bill.

But, he said, it should bring "an honest expression of the attitudes of members" on the dispute "and, hence, provide some measure of guidance" on the course desired by the majority.

Leaders on both sides of the issue said they expect the tabling motion to lose by about the same margin — 10 votes — that sponsors of the bill claim for it on a final passage roll call.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, leading the fight against the measure, said he would be delighted to vote for Mansfield's motion but did not expect it to carry.

Republican senators, including Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, were ready to continue the filibuster against the bill today.

Southern Democrats did the talking Tuesday after Dirksen started the filibuster with a lengthy effort Monday.

The bill's sponsors concede they do not have the two-thirds majority required to invoke cloture and shut off debate.

The filibuster in progress is on the preliminary motion to bring the measure before the Senate.

Legal Tangles Add Confusion In Murder Case

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Legal technicalities added further confusion Tuesday to the murder case of Dixie Lee Radcliff, 16 - year - old Amesville, Ohio, girl accused of killing two men.

The girl's attorney, William Egan, asked Justice of the Peace J. F. Brierley to dismiss charges against his client after the prosecution said it was not prepared to present evidence at a preliminary hearing.

Coconino County Atty. Harry L. Smith said Arizona law does not entitle a defendant to a preliminary hearing as well as grand jury consideration of a case. Smith said Egan would have to waive rights to a grand jury, but Egan refused.

Judge Brierley ruled Arizona law specifies that a preliminary hearing must be held if it is not waived. He said he would rule later on Egan's motion for a dismissal of the charges.

The county's first grand jury in 50 years convenes Thursday to hear evidence against Miss Radcliff and her boy friend, Donald Boggs, 23, of Londonderry, Ohio. Both are charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Robert Willis, 23, and Halvor Johnson, 28, both of Newport, N.H.

Secrest Will Seek Re-Election In 17th

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Rep. Robert T. Secrest, veteran Ohio Democrat, announced Tuesday his candidacy for re-election in the new eight-county 17th District.

The 61-year-old Secrest moved here earlier this year from Noble County, which has been placed in the 18th District, represented by Rep. Wayne Hays, Democrat who resides in Flushing.

Secrest will try to unseat Republican Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Johnstown, if both win their primaries next year.

Junior Editors Quiz on ASPHALT

QUESTION: Can you tell me something about hard asphalt?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: We think of asphalt as a thick, black sticky substance put on roofs and roads (see main picture) which later hardens—crushed rock being added to help make it even harder. Asphalt comes largely from petroleum, that amazingly useful liquid found in deposits underground, from which we also get gasoline, fuel oil and kerosene. Besides being extracted from petroleum, asphalt also occurs in natural lakes, as in upper left, where a man has walked out on the crust forming over it. Besides this liquid asphalt, forces underground have also produced seams of solid asphalt, called gilsonite or uintaite. When it is mined, coke and gasoline can be extracted from it, and it can be used for covering purposes and for paints. The pieces break apart with an inward curve, called a conchoidal fracture.

The name gilsonite came from one of the material's discoverers, S. H. Gilson. Uintaite comes from the name of the area where this substance is found: the Uinta Basin, near the border of Colorado and Utah. Gilsonite occurs in seams which may be quite narrow but are often thousands of feet deep.

Are You Taking Care Of Your Back?

What is back of the epidemic of bad backs? Without doubt the trouble stems from our sedentary way of life. Other recognized factors which contribute to the problem are lopsided posture habits, swayback and excess abdominal girth. Today, nervous tension may aggravate the situation more than a little. Ill-fitting desk chairs, too-soft easy chairs and a sagging mattress nag a week back.

Ida Jean Kain

A reader, seeking help, wrote that when she is overly tired she sleeps eight or nine hours. Result, she gets up with a miserable backache. What can the trouble be? It could be a sagging mattress or spring is letting her down. And the trouble may be compounded by her sleeping posture. Lying flat on the back increases swayback. Sleeping on the abdomen also tends to exaggerate that incurve at the small of the back. The correct sleeping posture is to lie on one side, hips and knees bent slightly. When lying on the back, a flat pillow can be slipped under the bend of the knee, to relieve back strain.

—:—

FOR THOSE of you who have back trouble, the underlying question is, what do you do to strengthen your back? Corrective exercises are amazingly effective. At any acute stage of a back ailment, exercise is out of the question. Follow your doctor's instructions as to the type and amount of exercises taking them.

Lie flat on back on floor, with both knees flexed and soles of feet flat on floor. In this position there is no strain on the lower back.

Preliminary conditioner: Aim to keep your spine flat along the floor as you pull firmly up-and-in with the lower abdominal muscles. This feels wonderfully good! In this position breathe naturally, slowly and deeply, about 20 times.

From the above position, take this easy exercise: Lift one vertebra at a time off the floor. The aim is to try to curl the tip of the spine upwards, making the end of the spine lift itself up. Then uncurl spine, lowering back to floor one vertebra after another. Repeat routine three times, later five times.

NOW HUG knees to chest and rock lengthwise of the spine. This is a general strengthener.

Everyone should have an activity that helps to keep the back strong. Swimming is excellent as a general conditioner. But swimming will not correct swayback. Strongly contractive abdominal exercises, backed with unremitting good posture, are needed.

With good posture, sitting, just naturally exercising all the time.

Man Gets Life Terms For Slaying Family

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Loren Alexander, 24, of Lorain has been sentenced to three consecutive life terms for the slaying of his wife and three children last July 11.

Common Pleas Judge John Pincura passed sentence Tuesday after Alexander pleaded guilty to three counts of second-degree murder. He admitted killing his wife, Judy, and two children in their Lorain home. Alexander's attorney said it was a crime of passion resulting from his wife being unfaithful.

Ohio Klansman Says He Will Not Permit Violence

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The grand dragon of one Ohio Ku Klux Klan group insists: "I will not stand for violence."

In fact, said Grand Dragon Flynn Harvey of Columbus Tuesday, if a Klansman is found participating in violence or terror "I hope the law throws the book at him and I'll do everything I can to help throw the book at him."

Harvey and U. S. Rep. Robert Sweeney of Cleveland, Ohio's congressman at large, debated Tuesday—sometimes in shouts —over the aims and objectives of the Klan.

Sweeney, who's working to get a law outlawing the Klan, insisted it is "a society that fosters hate, that encourages violence. . . dedicated to provoking violence . . . and unrest in the country."

He viewed its recruiting efforts in Ohio as "as a resurgence of a messenger of hate," anti-Negro, anti - Jewish, anti-Catholic.

Harvey responded: "I do not hate anybody. I have Negroes as friends, I have Jews as friends, and I have Catholics as friends."

The two men talked on "Conversation Piece," an interview program over radio station WHIO in Dayton.

Their hour and 20 - minute word battle—with Harvey in the Dayton studio and Sweeney on a long distance telephone call from Cleveland—was marked by frequent shouted interruptions as each badgered the other to answer questions.

"Have you saw this in Ohio?" Harvey demanded repeatedly as Sweeney listed violence and terror he said were associated with Klan groups in Ohio.

Harvey maintained Klansmen are as entitled to their all-white organization as Negroes are to their Black Muslims.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Early Letter Writing Good For Child

Observing my 13 grandchildren and their friends, I conclude that girls especially, seem to write a good many letters in their early teen-age. I assume they gain considerably in written expression from these pleasures. I don't recall ever opening or reading one of the letters of my children or grandchildren, written or received, unless they wanted me to do so. I would consider it a serious trespass on their rights and privacy if I did.

Dr. Garry Myers

I have said this before in my column and have received a number of letters from mothers telling me they were able to discover some serious matters by opening and reading the letters by and to their children.

—:—

PERHAPS they did, but by doing so, they keep themselves from winning the complete confidence and esteem of their children, depriving themselves of being able to avert worse matters later. I insist that we should not read the letters written or received by our children or grandchildren or peek into their dairy. I hope to follow this advice as long as I live.

I should add that I can't recall an instance when our children or grandchildren ever opened or read letters Mrs. Myers and I wrote or received, unless we invited them to do so. There's a certain privacy which is very precious in our relationships.

Long before the child can write, he might like to make a mark on a letter we write for him. As soon as he can print or write his name, he likes to add that. Besides he might be eager to draw a picture or two on this letter. Or before he can write, he may like to dictate what to say for him.

After he can write a little, he may ask us how to spell certain words or what to say. As a rule, we should encourage him to say just what he wants to say. If we suggest adult expression, he may grow stilted too soon, losing his free and easy way of expressing his thoughts and feelings.

HE MAY like to write to a favorite cousin, aunt, or grandparent. It is wonderful when he writes to a parent or big brother or sister far away from home. We should encourage him to do this as soon as he can write some.

How wholesome it is when he writes his big brother in the armed forces. In doing this he brings much cheer to the big brother and helps cement the family bonds of affection. In some cases, parents should require the school-age child to write the absent big brother or sister at regular intervals.

A bit of nicety of social grace is his writing thank you notes for the presents he has received on his birthday or Christmas. Boys as well as girls should be urged, even be required, to do so.

Usually children of any age tend to write neatly and legibly to their friends and loved ones, more so perhaps than when they prepare written homework for school. If you own a typewriter, your child might have a strong motive to write letters, even when he must ask you how to spell many words.

USING THE typewriter during his early elementary-grade years, he may gain good practice at spelling and at reading what he has written. I have seen children as young as seven or eight spend hours copying with the typewriter a story they like, observing capital letters and punctuation.

When a child receives a letter from a friend he observes the neatness and legibility and the spelling. He may be shocked at seeing words spelled incorrectly. From this observation, he may feel a strong urge to write an attractive hand himself and to prove he is a good speller.

My bulletins, "Home Helps in Spelling" and "Your Child and His Handwriting," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Akron Makes Change In Fire Department

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Akron City Council has removed the superintendent of communications from the fire chief's jurisdiction and made him head of the Police and Fire Signals Division in the Public Safety Division.

The position places the signals chief under the mayor. In doing so, Tuesday's action also removed him from eligibility for a fireman's pension and placed him under the public employes retirement system.

Currently the city has no signals chief. The last one, Raymond C. Myers, is awaiting trial on three charges of conflict of interest.

Between 70,000 and 80,000 families are displaced each year because of public construction projects, including urban renewal work, public housing and road building activity.
